Kassem-Nasser Feud Worsens

Cairo Press Brands Iraqi Chief Red Agent

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Damascus students demonstrated against Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem today as the feud between Kassem and President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic got hotter.

Taking their cue from Nasser's bitter speech Wednesday, the Cairo press branded Kassem a Communist agent.

Schoolgirls in black and white uniforms hoisted big U.A.R. flags and marched to the presidential residence where Nasser is staying. A pupil with pink ribbons tied to her pigtails led classmates in chants denouncing Kassem and proclaiming Arab solidarity.

Older students converged on Nasser's headquarters as anti-Kassem fever mounted.

Cairo papers pinned the hero label on the leader of the brief, abortive army revolt in Iraq, Col. Abdel Wahab Shawaf, who, Baghdad reported, was slain.

"The world," said Al Ahrum, "has witnessed the true face of Kassem, another face of (former Iraqi Premier) Nuri Said, a distorted continuation of Nuri and a paid agent just as Nuri was."

This was a pointed reminder of the days before Kassem's forces overthrew the pro-Western Nuri and killed him. In those days the West had its money on Nuri and the Soviet Union was backing Nasser for the leadership of the Arab world. Now the Communists were on Kassem's side and Nasser was blasting them.

There was a sharp split between the Communists in Iraq and Moscow, however. The Iraqi Reds accused Nasser of fomenting the revolt. Moscow was trying to blame the West, but the Soviet propaganda did not appear to be having

Draft Extension Legislation Sent To Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation extending the draft law four years was sped to President Eisenhower today by the House.

By voice vote and without debate, the House approved a Senate amendment to a bill which passed the House last month. The amendment dealt with the pay of doctors and dentists in the armed services.

The Senate passed 90-1 Wednesday a bill extending the draft and related military manpower programs until July 1, 1963.

Only Sen. William Langer (R-ND), who has opposed draft act extensions since World War II, voted against it.

The only Senate change in the bill previously passed by the House was a four-year extension of the extra pay for physicians, dentists and other medical specialists.

LOVE THOSE QUAKERS! — The student section particularly was in a frenzy at Kent State University fieldhouse Wednesday night as Coach John Cabas' Salem High School basketball team battled and won over a scrappy Canton Lincoln team 57-49 in the first game of the Kent regional Class AA tournament. The close game brought many an anxious moment for the Quaker followers as this News photo attests. (Story and other pictures on sports page).

3-Hour Moon Space Flight Is Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Space flight to the moon in less than three hours may some day be possible, a noted scientist says.

So might a 4½-year flight to Pluto, the most distant planet in the solar system, says Dr. Lee Dubridge, president of California Institute of Technology.

But, he indicated, space distances are so enormous that any visions of flight to even the nearest star beyond our sun appear out of the question.

Reason: The spacemen would have lived through a normal lifetime thousands of years before the trip was over!

If a spaceship could be developed having a speed of 90,000 miles an hour — or 25 miles a second — it could reach the moon in 2.9 hours, the sun in 4 days and Pluto in 4½ years, Dubridge said. But it would take the same ship 30,000 years to reach Alpha Centauri, the nearest star beyond the sun.

"It is true," he said Wednesday night at a symposium sponsored by Resources for the Future, Inc., "we can some day probably exceed the speed of 25 miles per second."

"But the 25,000 miles per second required to bring the nearest star within reach is not in sight."

Ford Will Build Smaller Auto

Firm First of Big 3 To Announce Plans

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. has become the first of the Big Three auto makers to confirm it will build a smaller car.

The company said in a letter to stockholders Wednesday that barring changes in the small car market, Ford will introduce an economy model sometime this fall.

Neither General Motors nor Chrysler, the other two members of the Big Three, had any comment on the Ford announcement. Both have outlined company positions in previous statements.

The latest of these was Tuesday when L. L. (Tex) Colbert, Chrysler president, told a news conference in New York that Chrysler had a small car in the testing stage but had not yet decided whether to put it on the market.

The GM stand was incorporated in the company's 1958 annual report by Frederic G. Donner, board chairman, and John F. Gordon, president. The executives told shareholders the corporation was continuing studies to be prepared to produce smaller cars in the event demand warranted them.

The Ford announcement was made by Henry Ford II, president, and Ernest R. Breech, board chairman. Their letter said that the company had been studying the small car situation for several years.

"Barring changes in the market or other circumstances," the letter said.

Factory Payrolls Down In February

Salem's combined industrial payroll for the month of February was $1,391,967, or over $55,000 less than the payroll of $1,447,626 recorded in January, figures released today by the Chamber of Commerce reveal.

The total plant payroll so far for 1959 is $2,839,594 as compared to the two-month total at this time in 1958 of $3,230,440.

There were 4,212 persons employed in Salem factories during February, compared to 4,229 in January this year.

Senate Approves Measure

House Geared to Act On Hawaii State Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House was geared today to take final congressional action to make Hawaii the 50th state.

The Senate voted 76-15 Wednesday night in favor of statehood for the mid-Pacific islands. The vote came after only one day of debate.

The sponsor of the House bill, Chairman Leo W. O'Brien (D-NY) of the House Territories subcommittee, said he was prepared to amend his measure to conform exactly to the Senate-passed bill which had 56 co-sponsors.

House approval of a conforming measure would send the bill directly to President Eisenhower.

His signature would pave the way for state elections in time to seat two Hawaii senators and one representative in the House in this session of Congress.

Any variance between House and Senate versions of the bill would require Senate-House conferences and subsequent votes of concurrence.

Ira Cunningham Found Guilty of Bribery Try

Former E. Liverpool Policeman to Seek Reversal of Verdict

LISBON — A Common Pleas Court jury Wednesday returned a guilty verdict against Ira Cunningham, 52, former East Liverpool policeman, on a charge of attempting to bribe a juror.

The jury brought in the verdict at 4:50 p.m. after deliberating a little over two hours.

Conviction carries a penalty of a fine not exceeding $500 and/or a sentence of from one to five years in prison.

Cunningham's attorney, Hugo Alexander of Steubenville, said he would appeal the verdict.

Cunningham was indicted last November for attempting to bribe Donald Lockhart, an East Liverpool drug store clerk who had been summoned to sit on a jury hearing a burglary charge against the officer.

As it turned out, Lockhart did not serve on the jury which convicted Cunningham of the 1952 burglary of the Burdick Hardware Store.

Highlights of the bribery trial, which began Monday before Judge Joel H. Sharp, were the playing of a taped conversation between Cunningham and Lockhart, and Lockhart's testimony.

Lockhart testified that Cunningham had offered to make up the difference between his daily salary and jury pay if he were to serve on the panel.

Cunningham took the stand Tuesday and testified that he could not remember events which occurred last October and November. He said he did not recall the Burdick burglary trial or talking with Lockhart.

He was assisted from the stand by his wife and his attorney after telling the judge he was too weak to move.

Hospitalized Two Weeks Cunningham was hospitalized in Wheeling, W. Va., for two weeks in late November and December for psychiatric treatment.

Found guilty of the Burdick burglary with Cunningham was Jerome Raymond, 31, Robert Carroll, 35, also tried on that charge, was acquitted. Both are former East Liverpool officers.

Cunningham, Raymond and Mike Stutler, 35, another officer implicated in the 1956 East Liverpool police burglary scandal, were sentenced Jan. 5 by Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard to one to 15 years each in the Ohio State Penitentiary.

The cases are awaiting hearings by the Court of Appeals.

He was treated at City Hospital and released and Warren Hixenbaugh, owner of the dog, was ordered by police to keep it under observation for three weeks.

Board Presents New School Plan

Mahoning Local to Vote Again July 14

Mahoning Local School District Board of Education voted Wednesday night to take the three-mill operating levy off the May 5 primary and to put it up for special vote July 14 along with bond issues for the additions to Goshen Center Elementary School and for a consolidated Mahoning Local high school.

The three classroom and multi-purpose room additions to Goshen Center will cost around $95,000.

The exact cost of the new high school will be determined at a special board meeting, to be held as soon as tax figures are received from the Mahoning County auditor, Board Clerk Mrs. Rhea Emmons explained.

Clay Farm Site Chosen The board chose the Henry Clay farm, directly east of Sebring on the Pine Lake-Sebring Road as the site for the proposed new high school. This site had been previously eliminated by the former "Committee of 39" when it reviewed five available school sites.

This surprise action followed a pre-meeting conference of Board members Norman Barnett, Glenn Shreve, Dale Schoeni, Charles Mercer and George Gottschall.

When the roll was called for a vote on the special election issue during the board meeting, there was still one dissenting vote, that of Mr. Gottschall of Sebring.

The board reaffirmed the survey which was made previously of the district by the State Department of Education which recommended that the district switch to the six-three-three enrollment plan to use the McKinley High School in Sebring as a junior high school, and to build a new consolidated high school.

Teacher Contracts Renewed In other action taken by the board last night the contracts of about 98 teachers were renewed, including those on limited contracts as well as those who qualify for continuing contracts.

The board also went on record agreeing to hire an executive head for the district as soon as possible to replace A. R. Gaffga, who quit last May and is now elementary principal at Tallmadge.

Maternity leave was granted to Mrs. Sally Stemitski and to Mrs. William Rudolph for the year 1959-60.

Top Level Talks Are Sought by British Leaders

Western Condition May Be Preparatory Confab by Ministers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Western powers are expected soon to offer the Soviet Union the definite possibility of a summit conference later this year.

The major Western condition for a top level meeting probably will be that an earlier conference of foreign ministers should make progress toward settling the Berlin crisis.

There is behind-the-scenes British dissent on this point, however, London leaders have informed other Allied governments they believe that direct and personal negotiations with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will have to be arranged sooner or later in any case.

Agree On Central Strategy The central strategy on which all the Western powers are agreed is that negotiations must be employed to the fullest limit possible in order to overcome the danger that the Berlin dispute could eventually explode into a nuclear war.

President Eisenhower told a news conference Wednesday that "we are certainly not going to fight a ground war in Europe." He declined under questioning to say flatly that the West would resort to nuclear war if the Soviets started shooting in Germany. But he did hold open that possibility, apparently for the deliberate purpose of warning Khrushchev.

While the news conference discussion concentrated on the dangers of an all-out conflict if the Berlin crisis were pushed to that point, administration officials said

Seaway Tolls Announced by U.S., Canada

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Canada today announced St. Lawrence Seaway tolls designed to pay off the construction debt of the huge waterway in 50 years.

The rates are the same as those presented in tentative form last June. At the time, shipping circles said the tolls were somewhat lower than they had expected.

The charges are less than those levied on vessels passing through the Suez and Panama canals.

The seaway, which cost about 451 million dollars, will be opened to traffic next month. The minimum depth of the channel between Montreal and Lake Erie is 27 feet. The old channel minimum depth was 14 feet.

Under the toll schedule a ship moving through the entire seaway will pay 6 cents for each gross registered ton of the vessel. One registered ton is figured as 100 cubic feet.

In addition, a toll of 42 cents a ton will be charged on bulk cargo and 95 cents on each ton of general cargo.

For each passage between Montreal and Lake Ontario, the basic charge will be 4 cents a registered ton plus 40 cents on each ton of bulk cargo and 90 cents for general cargo.

If a ship travels only part way between Montreal and Lake Ontario, the charge will be 15 per cent of the toll for a full transit for each of the even locks used.

Tolls also will be imposed for the first time on ships using the Welland Canal which bypasses Niagara Falls between Lake Ontario and Lake Erie.

Vessels will be charged 2 cents for each gross registered ton plus 2 cents on each ton of bulk cargo and 5 cents on general cargo.

If a ship does not complete a transit of the canal, half the full toll will be assessed provided it passes through at least one lock.

Vote Registration Bills Fought By County Election Officials

By DUANE F. CROFT
News Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio—County election officials throughout Ohio are lining up their forces to block the half dozen bills that would make it easier for inactive voters to stay on registration lists.

Spearheading the fight are James Secombe, clerk of the Stark County Board of Elections and Jennings B. Cole, clerk of the Scioto County Board.

Secombe is president of the Ohio Association of Election Officials and Cole is chairman of the group's legislative committee. Present law requires cancellation of the registration of a citizen who had not voted in any election for two years.

Six bills in the 103rd General Assembly would extend this "grace period" to four years.

One of the bills has already passed the Senate and is not in the House. The election officials say it slipped by them because hearings were completed on it before they were aware of its introduction.

Another bill was reported out Wednesday by the Senate Elections Committee with a recommendation for passage despite arguments against it at three hearings by Cole and other members of the association. The bill was sponsored by Sen. John C. Smith (D-Dayton) chairman of the committee and Sen. William Baker (D-Dayton) a committee member.

The association says its members in all 88 counties are opposed to the extension. Basic reason are:

"DEAD WOOD" will accumulate in the registration lists through deaths, name changes and moves as well as inactive voters.

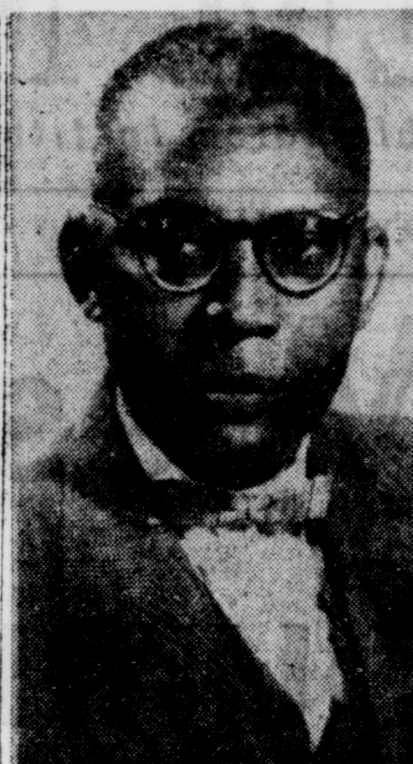

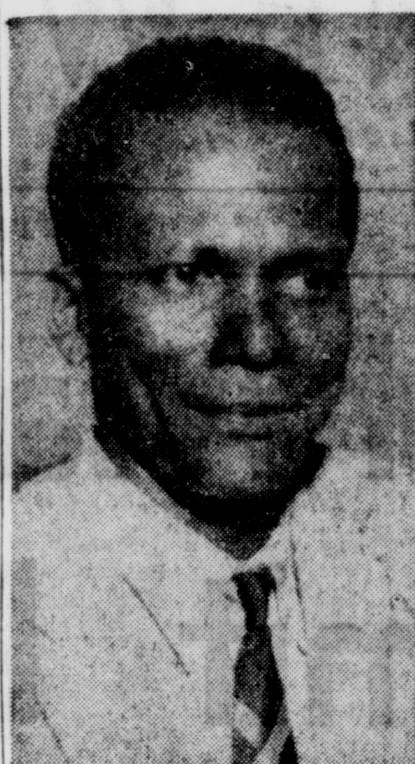

EXPANDED files will require heavy expenditures for additional space and equipment.

PRECINCT LISTS will grow too large, resulting in more challenges before election boards and unnecessary division and rearrangement of precincts.

Cole said the latter would result in further waste of money on excess personnel and excess ballots or voting machines.

Alerting the Stark County delegation to the bills last week, Secombe said they would encourage laxity rather than participation in voting.

He added they would prove a

Dejoie, another exiled opposition leader, has been broadcasting the same message.

boon to voters who take an interest only in presidential elections which come every four years and ignore so-called "off year" elections on important state and local issues.

He said this group poses one of the major problems of promoters of larger voter turnouts.

Cole said the latter would re-labor groups are behind the bill as a result of the right-to-work issue in last November's election, when unions went to considerable expense and effort to register workers who had let their registrations lapse.

Similar bills however have been introduced in previous sessions of the Legislature. In the 102nd session, two years ago, none got beyond the committee stage, according to the association.

Montgomery County Democratic Chairman Albert Horstman is reported to be a leading promoter of the bill. This would seem to be borne out by the fact that four of the six measures are sponsored by Montgomery County Democrats, Smith and Baker in the Senate and Reps. Richard C. Malone and Robert L. Roderer in the House.

Three of the bills would simply increase the validity period to four years. Two others would extend the validity and permit re-registration by mail.

Cole said the county officials would support registration by mail but not the extension to four years.

The sixth bill would require door-to-door registration.

Harmon Not Bothered By Voters' Anger

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Randall S. Harmon (D-Ind)—he of the celebrated front porch—isn't a bit perturbed by word that some of the voters back home would like him to come back home and stay.

He is tied up at the moment with a post office matter, anyway. Harmon, the 55-year-old fresh man congressman, reported with no trace of alarm Tuesday that a number of folks in his 10th District of Indiana want him impeached.

"Let 'em try," Harmon challenged. "I've got this job until Jan. 2, 1961 and I mean to keep it."

Harmon is the congressman who rents his closed-in front porch to the government for use as a district office—Harmon's district office, that is. The government pays $100 a month. It also pays Mrs. Harmon $334.10 a month to run the office.

Harmon now says Uncle Sam owes him $1,800 for using the porch as a drop-off point for sacks of mail. He has a date with Postmaster General Summerfield Thursday to thrash this one out.

Harmon said the post office has been placing mail for sorting by a carrier on the Harmon porch for years. A Post Office Department spokesman said this kind of operation is not unusual but that use of Harmon's all-purpose porch has been discontinued.

Spittlebug Control

First growth clover and alfalfa will be seriously stunted by spittlebug this spring, extension entomologists at Ohio State University have informed Floyd Lower, county extension agent.

Control is not difficult, they say, if the recommended chemicals are used at the proper time and with sufficient amount of spray per acre. During the last 10 years, spittlebug population had been increasing in Ohio, with clover tonnage reduced about 25 per cent and alfalfa tonnage about 15 per cent where no sprays were applied.

Methoxychlor and Heptachlor, the chemicals now recommended, must be applied with at least 10 gallons of spray per acre and when the crop is no more than four to six inches tall, the entomologists said.

If the crop is taller, 15 to 20 gallons of water must be used. Heptachlor should be used at the rate of one quart of 25 per cent emulsion concentrate per acre in at least 10 gallons of water or two quarts of 25 per cent emulsion concentrate of Methoxychlor should be used likewise. Animals should not be pastured on treated fields harvested for 10 days after treatment with Heptachlor or seven days after treatment with Methoxychlor, Lower said.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

In Washington offices crackling with tension, many an observer of the nation's new "poverty pockets" expects his jangling telephone to bring grim news of violent clashes over mighty scarce jobs.

Already in one giant southern plant, a band of men stopped other unionists from working on new installations—literally drove them out with fists and chains. Now weary men, racing against time, expect the net word of violence to flash up momentarily from certain coal fields. For the fact is that the aging giant, John L. Lewis, is recovering at home in Virginia far more swiftly than the sick old King Coal industry itself.

To realize what's happening in the mine patches we once watched so closely when John L. stalked the land, is to realize what's happening dramatically behind the scenes in those industries which are not hitched to the stars or to the planets.

THAT LITTLE golden ball we just heaved around the sun is exerting a far greater influence on us people than we realize. While the earthbound coal industry and its union shrink, the power inside labor and, therefore, inside our social and political life is shifting to such unions as the International Assn. of Machinists.

Its members are at Lockheed Aircraft's missile division, which is now working on an artist's conception of the one-man, one-seater nose cone, our first manned space ship. It is the Machinists (IAM) membership which also staffs the aerodynamics division of Convair at San Diego. That firm provides most of the Atlas—which hurls the golden spheres into sun orbits.

Meanwhile, although old giants never die, they sure shrink. It came as a shock to some observers to learn from the Mine Union itself that there are, for example, only 175,000 coal diggers in the pits and around the shafts today. Thus less than half of the 400,000 miners of yesterday are working today.

They are but a handful of the original 750,000 men who made up the mighty empire John L. took over in 1923—an empire to which presidents of the U.S. came hat in hand—sometimes doffed in respect for Mr. Lewis and sometimes upside down in respect for the political handouts distributed by the great union.

WHAT REDUCED this once powerful outfit? Of course, there are fuel substitutes. But most important there are machines which can dig the coal and move it faster than we can use it now. There will soon be available a mechanical monster described by the experts as a remotely controlled, continuous mining machine.

One man, in an electronic center above ground, will guide the cool chewing robot to underground seams. It will dig the black fuel and load it on a heavy duty continuous transport system which will move it to an outside station with no touch of human hands.

Some day soon, such coal will be automatically crushed at the outside depot and shoved into a pipeline. Then water will move it hundreds of miles directly to the industrial consumer—just like natural gas.

There is such a coal pipeline covering 108 miles of eastern Ohio. It runs from a giant coal company in Belmont County to the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. generating plant in Eastlake. The pipeline can move the equivalent of 21,000 railroad hopper cars annually.

Though the miners' jobs have been cut the treasuries of their once huge union have increased. Mr. Lewis runs a powerful Washington bank. His welfare fund pays out well over $100,000 a year. The UMW has some 50 million dollars in the central kitty.

But that money won't make jobs. It's the inheritance of past greatness. In some areas, scores of thousands of miners are jobless.

They love their union. But they and their families have to eat. If help doesn't come from some place, they'll dig coal for whoever offers them work at whatever wage they can get. Then the clashes will come.

They'll fight just as their counterparts in other industries around the land have fought unpunished battles over available work. We live in a new era of poverty pockets amidst plenty. Some of our neighbors need help. They should get it.

Area Zoning Sound, Practical

Many cities throughout the United States are making major changes in their downtown business districts and completing arterial highway projects that years ago would have been termed "fantastic."

Why? Because most city planners years back lacked vision. Most had no real knowledge at planning and they were timid. They were afraid of making a mistake.

Actually, the mistake was not doing anything or not enough.

There was little, if any, zoning or planning then and hodge-podge, topsy-turvy expansion resulted.

Salem in the past two years has moved forward with the adoption of a city comprehensive plan and zoning with beneficial results. It is now being considered in adjacent Perry Township and other neighboring townships like Green and Goshen are being urged by the Area Development Council to weigh the merits of zoning.

If the entire suburban area outside of Salem could be zoned and planned for the future, the district's future orderly growth would be greatly enhanced because there would be a pattern for expansion. Existing urban and rural regions would be protected from selfish schemers trying to make a fast buck at everyone else's expense.

A trial and error existence can become pretty costly sometimes and it certainly isn't progressive.

Favorable to the plan for zoning in the township areas about Salem is the fact that the district is small enough to be cohesive. Regional planning sometimes fails to win acceptance because districts are too large but the townships surrounding Salem are so closely-knit that zoning would appear not only to be practical but good judgment.

Best Service--Lowest Cost

Among many items that appear destined for close study during the DiSalle administration is the rate-making base for Ohio's public utilities.

Representatives of some of the cities, led by Cleveland's able law director, content that Ohio's present base gives the utilities credit for inflated values and, therefore, rates are higher than are needed to give the utility stockholders a fair return on their investment.

The utilities counter with the argument that Ohio's rate base is fair and, in fact, their rates on the whole are lower than rates in other surrounding states and their service is better. Certainly this is true in the cases of the Ohio Edison Co., Ohio Bell Telephone Co. and Ohio Fuel Gas Co., which serve Salem.

Since utilities must be monopolies to be efficient, their service and rates are regulated by the state. The state recognizes that they must have rates that will give a fair return on their investment in order to attract investment capital to continue expanding, keeping pace and serving the public.

In other words, the utilities must be permitted to take in enough money to pay their operating costs and lay aside some for expansion and improvement to meet the public's demands for service.

SINCE 1913, Ohio has based its utility rates on a formula of "reconstruction cost new, less depreciation." This is the now-famous "RCN" formula. It values plant and equipment not at what it actually cost to build, say, two decades ago, but at what it would cost to build today, less a reasonable amount for depreciation.

The cities which seek a change in the rate base formula contend it is too difficult to determine what is reconstruction cost new, less depreciation, for the millions of items that make up a utility's total plant and equipment.

Bobwhite Doomed?

Salem hunters may be pleased but the majority of citizens probably was shocked by the Ohio House of Representatives' approval of a bill to permit the shooting of quail.

The bobwhite appears doomed, on state-owned land, as the measure provides, unless the Senate takes action to the contrary.

The Ohio State Grange and garden and nature clubs throughout Ohio came to the defense of the tiny bird but the state representatives sent through their ridiculous legislation anyway. The legislators could have done a public service if they had come up with a sure-fire remedy for getting rid of starlings. "Mr. and Mrs. Bob White" and their brood never hurt anyone.

Once Over

"What have we done?" asked the moon and sun,
"To be bombarded by everyone;
We to the earth have been more than fair..."

What kind of guys have they got down there!"

II

"I've been up here since the start of time;
What," asked the moon, "is my sudden crime?"

Songs have I stirred in those earthly jerks."
"Duck," bade the sun, "or you'll get the works!"

III

"Over the ages I've lit the night," Muttered the moon, "and was treated right;
Lovers I've helped with my magic spell."

"Dodge!" cried the sun, "or you won't stay well."

IV

"Love," said the moon, "I have aided much;
Romeo-Juliet knew my touch;

I've done my stuff for romantic kids;
Where are my friends? Have they flipped their lids?"

V

"Pal," said the sun, "it's a bitter cup;
What do you say if we both give up?"

"No," said the moon with a weary smile,

MAYBE WE BOTH CAN HOLD OUT A WHILE."

A STATE AUTO ASSOCIATION offers advice on tipping. Says the three tests are (1) How good is service, (2) Quality of food (3) What you can afford. But public timidity inment. They contend they do not have the financial resources to make a proper determination of what RCN actually should be and thus they are forced too often to accept rates which they think might be higher than they should be.

The utilities, on the other hand, contend that the present formula is best, despite the fact that most other states do not use it. They contend that it enables them to make a sufficient profit to pay a fair dividend to their stockholders and attract the new investment money from the public that they need for expansion. They argue that a less advantageous formula would raise the cost of borrowing money and therefore result in higher operating costs and higher rates.

Members of the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio are split. Two of them favor the present formula, one is adamantly opposed.

SOMEWHERE IN BETWEEN these two arguments — the cities vs. the utilities — the answer probably lies. That is what Gov. DiSalle wants to find out.

To that end, he had a conference last week with representatives of the cities and the utilities to hear their arguments. Both continued to be wide apart and there was no basis for agreement, and the governor fears no compromise is possible.

He will have to take it from there if he intends to pursue the matter.

At least the governor is thinking right when he says:

"I realize the municipalities are the underdogs, but I don't think we can swing the balance to the point of hurting the possibility of risk capital. There is a point where reasonable people can agree and I think it can be reached. I am interested in a program that will stimulate the economic and industrial development of this state."

The fair-minded people of Ohio will agree with the governor. They want the best service, and they want to encourage the utilities to keep on providing it, at the lowest rates that can do the job.

The new 1959 automobiles can do everything but go home alone, and there are times when it would be better if they did.

Policy Without Proof

By RAYMOND MOLEY

It is apparently the settled policy of this congressional majority that with large deficit spending the compensating revenues can be gotten from a faster rate of increase of the gross national product. This has been aptly called the "spend-yourself-rich" theory.

Since this Congress with its liberal majority will shape the platform and argument of the Democratic party in 1960, the Cabinet committee studying inflation and the President's 4-member committee of business men considering economic trends might well draw the issue on this specific point.

If they do, they will find plenty of material to disprove such a concept of national economic planning. Certainly, there are no historical facts to prove it.

The data on the subject in what follows were prepared for me by a competent economic analyst, Dr. Julius Hirsch.

The Hirsch figures go back to the period between 1903 and 1913—years of healthy growth in national wealth and general prosperity, with the exception of parts of 1907 and 1908. In 1903, the national income was $19,400,000,000. In 1913, it was 31 billion. This represented in the average of those years a growth of almost 6 per cent per year.

NOTE THAT THIS was without any purposeful government spending in those years, because no one seriously thought of the new economic theory of spending to increase wealth. During those years there was some inflation, however, since the cost of living increased by about 7 per cent. Employment improved. In 1903 there were about one million unemployed. In 1913 the figure was the same but because of a growing population there was a great increase of the working force.

After the abnormal years of the World War and the short boom and depression that followed, prosperity returned in 1922.

Then from 1922 to 1929 the Gross National Product (a calculation devised at that time to supplant the national income figures) increased from $69,900,000,000 to $94,000,000—on average more than 6 per cent per year.

During that period taxes were reduced and a considerable part of the national debt was paid off. The cost of living remained practically the same. Unemployment was at a minimum throughout. Again, there was no urge to increase government spending to stimulate the economy. Politics had not discovered economics. Nor had some economists such as John Maynard Keynes yet launched the get-rich-through-spending theory.

Now let us look at some of the years during which some of the "new" economic theorists such as Leon Keyserling were in the saddle, with President Truman taking his cue from them.

IN THE YEARS 1946-1949 inclusive, the Gross National Product increased in inflated prices by almost 23 per cent, but in "constant" prices (which means in prices of 1947) only by 3.5 per cent. In inflated prices, the average increase per year was 7.6 per cent, but in real progress it was an average of 1.1 per cent per year.

The cost of living during this period went up by almost 21 per cent, or 6.9 per cent a year on average. Unemployment also increased. This was in spite of fairly high federal expenditures. At the end of 1948, recession started. Then came the Korean War. Federal spending increased from $39,600,000,000 in 1950 to 74 billion in 1953. In those years the GNP during heavy inflation rose by almost 28 per cent, or by more than 9 per cent a year.

However, measured in constant dollars the GNP in those years rose only by 11.4 per cent—3.7 per cent a year. Our federal expenditures increased by 87 per cent in the whole period, or by 29 per cent yearly.

This was a large price to pay in federal expenditures to produce so small a GNP. But inflation took its toll. The cost of living went up 14 per cent. Thus, even during a war the increase in the resources subject to taxation fell far behind federal spending, while the chief burden fell, through inflation, on fixed incomes and other stationary values.

The only possible conclusion is that while inflation can be accelerated by federal spending, the tax resources cannot keep pace. The result is felt by taxpayers and by holders of fixed values.

Government spending policies can produce inflation but they cannot produce real wealth to equalize the losses involved in such inflation.

One-Man Rule

Serious Weakness In American System Exposed

When Sen. William Proxmire (R-Wis.), says that the Democrats, with their two-thirds membership in the Senate, are not functioning as a majority that is representative of the people, he is exposing a serious weakness in the American system.

What the Wisconsin senator criticizes in his second speech of a series is the way policy is determined by the Democratic party in the Senate. He says:

"The cold fact is that Democratic policy in the Senate is made entirely on an ad lib, off-the-cuff basis. The initiative as well as the final decision is almost always resolved by the majority leader himself on the basis of his own judgment of what is desirable and what is possible."

"This is not to say that the individual Democratic senator doesn't play a part in determining policy. His individual vote and whatever influence he may have that goes beyond his individual vote is a factor in the majority leader's calculus. But it is the majority leader who does the computing of the possible. And the critical point is that he does it without the over-all conscious guidance of Senate Democrats either in caucus or in policy committee."

"It is my position that this is an unnecessary delegation of responsibility by Democratic senators. In the vast majority of Democratic legislative bodies throughout this country and the world, no such delegation is found necessary for action."

WHAT PROXMIRE is describing, in euphemistic and gently spoken phrases, is a system of one-man rule which hardly squares with the word "democratic." The job of a majority leader is indeed concerned with reconciling conflicting views so as to arrive at a consensus. But this is a far different matter from the delegation to one man of the power to assign members to committees and to bestow other favors with respect to the taking up of particular bills in which a senator may be deeply interested.

Many a senator finds that his re-election may depend on whether he gets through the Senate certain legislation that benefits his district. If the majority leader doesn't look with favor on a senator who bucks the views of that leader on other subjects, the end result might be blocking the bill and ultimate defeat for the senator who stood up for his convictions.

It was never intended by the founding fathers that the two senators who represent a sovereign state would be subject to the rule of a single senator from some other state on whether a particular piece of legislation shall be pushed to passage or left to wither on the vine.

Rebellions against one-man rule in both houses of Congress have made the front pages in past history.

The revolt against Speaker Joe Cannon, Republican, in the House of Representatives in 1910 was hailed as an expression of progressive spirit. It led to an overwhelming defeat of the Republican party in that year's election—their first loss of Congress in 16 years.

THE AMERICAN PEOPLE have again and again disapproved of one-man rule in political organizations, whether it be outside or inside Congress.

Today it is evident that few members of the Senate dare to criticize the leader. They prefer to acquiesce in a code of expediency lest they lose favor with the man in control.

Yet, privately, many senators do concede that some bills are kept buried in committee or delayed till the final days of a session when they can be rushed through or defeated, as the case may be, without much debate.

The drift seems to be toward the totalitarian approach. Bossism is applauded nowadays as merely skillful or masterly "leadership." This session of the Senate, moreover, has seen a trend toward the curtailment of debate and a tendency to allow one man to run the majority party.

Any member can, of course, make whatever speech he desires for the record but his influence within his own party with respect to getting action on particular pieces of legislation depends to no small extent on how he stands with the majority leader.

Election of United States senators by popular vote—instead of by state legislatures, so as to overcome "boss rule" in those legislatures—was proclaimed as in line with the democratic process when the 17th Amendment was adopted in 1913. Yet few people who favored this amendment ever thought that one-man rule in the Senate could nullify the wishes of a whole state and block consideration of measures submitted by one state to the other states for approval or disapproval.

Baby Mixup

By TRUMAN TWILL

Herewith, another account of spring-lambing at the Twillery. This one does credit to the legend of King Solomon, who once handed down what was to become a historic decision about a baby mixup.

There was confusion about whether a set of new twins that had been licking them dry and be mothered by their own mother or by a family friend who had been fussing over them while awaiting the arrival of her own offspring.

The friend had pitched in, as neighbor women do, to help with the care of the new arrivals. She had been licking them dry and making them feel at home.

Her attachment to them had grown so strong that when her own lambs were born she was torn between them and her friend's offspring. To help her resolve this uncertainty about where her first duty lay, she was penned up with her lambs and the other mother and her twins penned up separately.

Uncertainty continued even in the absence of the other pair of lambs. Her own lambs were re-buffed while she complained at the top of her voice about the twins she had been fussing over while waiting for the birth of her own twins.

It must be explained here, parenthetically, that this is the kind of mixup which fulltime shepherds avert by staying on the job 24 hours a day. Every new mother and her lamb or lambs are segregated immediately.

After four hours of complaining and rebuffing, the best idea seemed to be to put both mothers and their lambs in the same pen, to see what they might work out between.

Bat Masterson

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—In the old Westerns the hero usually wound up being bussed by his faithful pony.

Because of a growing feminine interest in these hoofbeat sagas, however, horse kissing has died out as a major American art.

To please the ladies in the audience, the story now ends with the hero in a tender clinch with the faithful dance hall hostess — and the faithful horse can go eat grass, for all anybody cares.

Kissing pretty actresses seems an ideal job to the average man. But there are days when Gene Barry would just as soon turn this chore over to a stand-in.

For a temperamental actress, he implied, can be worse than a temperamental Mustang.

"Some of them try to give you that old feminine flimflam," Gene said.

"Then it's pretty hard to make love to them. But a fellow can always manage. I always ask myself, 'If their own mother loved them, why can't I?'"

Barry, like that real-life Western character, Billy the Kid, was born in New York City. In his first stage role he played Bluebeard in the sixth grade in Public School 121 in Brooklyn.

He began his professional career at 16. He sold jewelry, shoes and ladies' wear before making the big time on Broadway.

Since then he has been in a dozen films, traveled the night club circuit, and appeared on more than 100 television shows before he hit the real pay dirt as Bat Masterson.

His derby hat, tight suit and gold-headed cane—it often takes the place of a pistol — are now symbols of elegance to the teenagers (and middle-aged ladies) who idolize him.

He hopes to go on to directing and producing. But if the present mania for Westerns should fade and leave him stranded—unlikely, since he is a man of many talents—he's ready to take up a new career.

"I'd go in for contracting and building," he said. "I recently built my own house, and I like the field."

Barry recently said his goal was to have "a greater concern for the more simple and basic things" in life.

Then he added with a grin: "But first you gotta get rich. Then you don't have to worry about dough and can afford to squander your money on the simple, basic things."

Junior Gardeners Hold Spring Meeting

National Wildlife Week will be observed March 15-21. A copy of President Eisenhower's message to the Wildlife Federation was read to members of the Lucky Junior Gardeners of the Salem Garden Club Monday at Prospect School.

The federation's theme of the year is "The Three R's and Resources," stressing the importance of teaching the story of conservation in the schools.

"Topics for Spring was the title of the program prepared for the students by the Garden Club committee.

The first topic, "Our Feathered Friends, gave information on attracting birds to home yards and identifying them. "Pleasant, healthy and inexpensive," are the terms used to describe the popular hobby of bird watching.

Instructions on what to look for were taken from the book, "How to Know the Birds," by Roger Tory Peterson. A simple and practical bird feeder, one the youngsters can make themselves, was shown by Mrs. Charles Corbett.

"Planting Early Flowers" was the second topic on the program. Students helped to make planters of peppermint pinks and marigolds. Individual packets of seeds were given to each junior gardener to start a similar project at home.

"Growing Plants in Water" and "Easy Ways to Decorate Planters" were the talks given by Mrs. William Butler.

Hawaii

pressed for an amendment to give Hawaii two House members. He said Hawaii, with about 600,000 population, is entitled to two representatives under the apportionment formula adopted by Congress in 1941.

Gov. William F. Quinn arrived in Washington by air too late to witness the Senate vote.

At an impromptu celebration in the old Supreme Court chamber of the Capitol, Quinn thanked Senate leaders for their vote of confidence in Hawaii's people.

"Hawaii," he said, "has a destiny in the Pacific and a mission to accomplish. We are conscious of that mission and will do our utmost to carry it out."

News of the Senate vote reached the islands at mid-afternoon and was greeted with joy.

Acting Gov. Edward E. Johnston proclaimed a two-day holiday to start the moment the House passes the statehood bill.

Ford

ter said, "the company plans to introduce such a car during the 1960 model year."

Ford and Breech said the car will be in competition with other economy cars, "including cars expected to be produced in this country by other American manufacturers."

The predictions generally are that newer models planned by the Big Three will be of from 108 to 110 inch wheelbase. This is about 10 inches shorter than regular Chevrolet and Ford models.

Hawaiians Send 600 Leis to Congressmen

HONOLULU (AP) — Exuberant Hawaiians air-expressed 600 leis to Washington for members of Congress today after Senate passage of the Hawaii statehood bill. The flowers were sent to Territorial Delegate John A. Burns, who will present them Friday on behalf of the Hawaii Legislature. Territorial Gov. William F. Quinn flew to the nation's capital for the big occasion.

Acting Gov. Edward E. Johnston proclaimed a two-day holiday throughout the islands to start immediately after Congress completes passage of the bill.

His proclamation said passage of Hawaiian statehood would mean the culmination of patient striving and the long-nurtured hopes of Hawaiians.

Senate passage of the bill Wednesday was greeted joyously. After receiving the word by telephone from Washington, Johnston exclaimed: "It's wonderful news!"

The Honolulu Star-Bulletin hit the streets with an extra and radio stations interrupted programs to broadcast the news.

In anticipation of the House completing approval of the measure, preparations were rushed for fireworks and celebrations. Hawaiian Airlines planned to fly flags with 50 stars and flash the word to its pilots in flight for passengers' information.

Talks

Eisenhower and all of his chief aides believe that Khrushchev will stop short of a military showdown if the West shows firmness and determination in defending its Berlin position.

Next Move Up To West
On the diplomatic front, the next move is up to the West. It may come early next week, in the form of new notes to the U.S.S.R. from the United States, Britain and France.

These notes are expected to call for a foreign ministers conference at Geneva about May 11 to deal with the whole German problem, including Soviet proposals respecting Berlin and a German peace treaty.

The Soviet Union has said a foreign ministers meeting should be limited to those two points.

countering the Soviet threat to West Berlin. But he stressed that the West remains "resolute and firm on our principles."

The Soviet leader's tour wound up with a joint Soviet-East German communique Wednesday night calling for a peace treaty on terms already rejected by the West.

The Soviet Union and the East German satellite regime pledged to keep the road open between West Berlin and the West — but only on condition that the Allied occupation ends. State Department spokesman in Washington said the offer was nothing new and emphasized that it would mean the Western allies giving up their rights in Berlin.

Khrushchev and the East Germans also repeated the Soviet demand that the proposed foreign ministers conference be confined to preparation of a peace treaty with Germany and "discussion of the quickest liquidation of the occupation regime in West Berlin."

They also called for a summit conference to take up other issues dividing East and West. The West wants to discuss the whole question of German unification rather than be pinned down to facet of the German problem.

The prospects loomed larger for East-West negotiations—and possibly the summit talks sought so ardently by Khrushchev. New notes to the Soviet Union being prepared in the Western capitals reportedly will suggest a foreign ministers conference in Geneva about May 11.

River-Lake Group To Meet With Preston

The Ohio River Lake Erie Highway Association, organized to support plans for construction of a freeway linking East Liverpool and Ashtabula, has scheduled a "get acquainted" meeting with Everett Preston, director of the State Highway Department, Friday, April 10, at 6:30 p.m. at the Squaw Creek Country Club near Youngstown.

Preliminary plans for the meeting were announced today by Francis H. Lang of East Liverpool who heads the four-county association. Invitations will be given the commissioners and engineers in Columbiana, Mahoning, Ashtabula and Trumbull counties.

Also slated to attend are the heads of the two highway department divisions affected by the freeway plans. They are John W. Hagan, head of the Division 11 office at New Philadelphia, and Paul Kostyshak who is in charge of Division 4 at Ravenna.

Household Hints

Save the big pieces for the larger rooms. Smaller furniture in a small room helps give an illusion of spaciousness.

When cooking spaghetti or macaroni, add one tablespoon cooking oil to prevent boiling over.

Before vacuuming your rug, pour salt over it to sweep out the soot and restore bright color.

'CUSTOMER' TAKES $10

Mrs. Walter Ahlert, an employer at Dickey's Ideal Dairy Store, 991 N. Ellsworth Ave. reported to police that a young man took $10 from the cash register while she was waiting on him at 2:55 p.m. Wednesday. He then asked her to give him a $20 bill for two tens. The man left the store with the $10 bill he had taken when another customer entered the store, she reported.

Ohio Measure to Change Date Of Memorial Day Hits Snag

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An Ohio Senate bill to change Memorial Day from May 30 to the last Monday in May hit a big, fat snag Wednesday and was sent back to a Senate committee for revision.

The sponsor, Sen. Ross Pepple (R-Allen) agreed to the move after Sen. Fred L. Hoffman (R-Hamilton) pointed out the bill changed only one section of the Ohio code with respect to Memorial Day while it is mentioned in several sections.

With only minor legislation up for consideration—the Senate has none—the lawmakers planned to end their week's business today and head home—weather permitting.

Before Wednesday's ruckus over the Memorial Day bill, the Senate approved and sent to the House a bill to authorize the use by Ohio election boards of a lightweight, miniature voting machine developed by Martin Coyle, Butler County Republican chairman.

A similar bill passed the House two years ago, but died in the Senate Rules Committee.

The Coyle machine, sponsors of the bill said, will cost about one-third the amount of conventional machines and require about one-fifth the storage space. It is a card-punch machine. The ballots would be counted on tabulating machines in board of election offices.

A subcommittee of the House Industry and Labor Committee returned a substitute bill for a half-dozen others calling for a $1-an-hour minimum wage in the state, but the full committee took no action immediately.

The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill to permit school boards to buy insurance coverage for pupils and instructors in approved driver training courses.

Another bill, passed unanimously by the House, would permit teachers leaving the armed forces to study for three years before returning to their classrooms and still qualify for retirement benefits. The present limit is two years.

Union Officials Face Charges

Probe of Communist Activities Continues

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Contempt of Congress citations are being considered against two officials of the United Electrical Workers Union by a subcommittee of the House un-American Activities Committee.

The three-member committee, probing Communist activities in western Pennsylvania, ordered a review of fiery testimony given Wednesday by Thomas Quinn of nearby Monroeville, Pa., a UE field organizer, and attorney Frank Donner, of New York, UE general counsel.

In addition, the committee called for a Justice Department probe of what it said was possible perjury on Quinn's part.

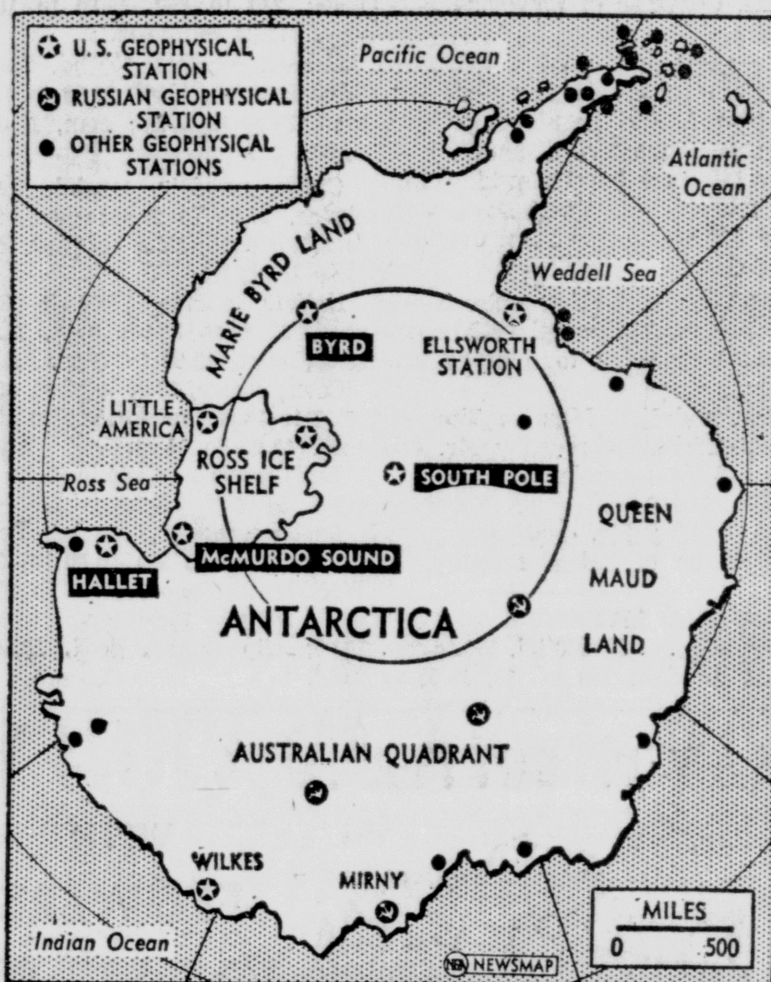

The committee action came after Quinn shouted denial that he ever was a member of the Communist Party. The committee noted that he had been sentenced to jail in 1951 for refusing to answer questions whether he had ever been a Communist.

Quinn branded as a lie statements that the UE had been tossed out of the CIO as being Communist-infiltrated. He said the UE merely quit the CIO.

Donner heatedly charged that he was being "smeared" and that the hearings here were "nothing but a three-ring circus purely for the purpose of promoting headlines."

Also called to testify were Robert Kirkwood, business agent of the UE Local 610 in Greensburg, Pa.; John W. Nelson, president of UE Local 506, Erie, Pa.; and Thomas Wright, managing editor of the national UE newspaper published in New York.

Donner, Kirkwood, Nelson and Wright testified they had not belonged to the Communist Party since 1949. But they refused to say if they had been affiliated with the party prior to 1949.

IN ANTARCTICA TO STAY — American scientists and service men of operation "Deep Freeze" are preparing to remain in Antarctica indefinitely. About 150 persons will winter in during the coming months at four stations (white type on Newsmap, above). Seven other nations, including Russia, which established bases during the recently concluded International Geophysical Year, also intend to remain permanently.

4 Arrested In Holdup Admit Other Crimes

EAST MEADOW, N.Y. (AP)—Four men accused of robbing a Massapequa, N.Y., bank of $75,000 last Monday are veteran bandits, police say.

When seized Tuesday, the quartet claimed the robbery was a spur-of-the-moment operation, a means of solving their financial worries. Police were inclined to believe them because none of them had a previous criminal record.

Wednesday, authorities said, the men admitted seven other cash holdups on Long Island over the past two years—working singly and in pairs. Four of the victims were loan companies. The total loot was set at about $6,800.

Held on armed robbery charges in the Nassau County jail here are Thomas Parks, 27, a plumber; Richard Hatch, 53, a blueprint developer; William T. McHenry, 31, an unemployed insurance salesman; and Anatol Rytsky, 44, owner of a tavern, said to be the ringleader.

Milam to Get Another Trial

Appeals Court Upsets Murder Conviction

CLEVELAND (AP) — A new trial has been ordered for Dallas E. Milam, referred to by two Appellate Court judges as a naive, 18-year-old farm boy from West Virginia, caught in a web fashioned by big-city criminals.

The Eighth District Court of Appeals upset Milam's first-degree murder conviction by a three-judge trial court. Appellate judges Julius M. Covachy and Joy Seth Hurd said in their opinion Wednesday the conviction was contrary to the weight of evidence.

The third appellate judge, Lee E. Skeel, dissented, urging that Milam's conviction in the slaying of Police Lt. Edward G. Lentz be upheld.

Milam is serving a life term in Ohio Penitentiary for the Dec. 9, 1957, slaying. Also in the penitentiary are Robert Lee Lyons, convicted of shooting the police officer, and James Wilson Davis, convicted with Milam of participating in the slaying.

Lentz was shot as Milam and the other two were fleeing the scene of a robbery.

Judges Kovachy and Hurd said Milam had no knowledge of the coming crime when Davis tricked him into going to the home of Alonzo Buchanan to recover gambling losses.

They said Milam apparently was surprised when Davis suddenly produced a revolver at Buchanan's residence and that while driving away he stopped the car upon hearing the police siren. Milam neither resisted arrest nor made any further attempt to flee, the judges said.

The two judges concluded that Milam had submitted to arrest before the shooting and that the killing was a separate crime.

They also said in their separate opinions that Milam acted under duress during the robbery.

Milam had come here from a Beckley, W. Va., farm and had known Davis only a few days. He met Lyons only an hour before Lentz was killed.

Judges Hurd and Kovachy said Milam had agreed to go with Davis only "upon the assurance of Davis over and over again that there would be no trouble."

Judge Skeel, in his dissenting opinion, said it was clear that Milam "made no effort to leave when the violence started and followed along with Davis and Lyons during the final search of the premises."

The court majority pointed out that Lyons and Davis, who had testified against Milam at the trial, later changed their stories to agree that the boy had no idea what was planned.

'Flying Bank Robber' Reported In Indiana

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Frank L. Spreng, 29-year-old flying bank robber, was reported seen at Aretz Flying Service Airport East of Lafayette Tuesday night.

Edward J. Powers, FBI agent in charge at Indianapolis, said a man matching the description of Spreng inquired about renting a plane. Airfield employees did not become suspicious until later when they saw pictures of Spreng and a description circulated by the FBI to airports.

Investigators said the technique of "casing" an airport and later stealing a plane to make a getaway was used in $25,955 robbery March 2 at the First National Bank and Trust Co. branch at Hamilton, Ohio.

The getaway in that robbery included a flight in a stolen plane from Hamilton to Coshocton, Ohio. Since then Spreng has been the object of an intensive search in eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania.

Spreng, who is on the FBI's list of 10 most wanted men, escaped with four other men from jail at Akron, Ohio, April 16. The Hamilton air escape was the third plane theft in six months attributed to him.

Okay on Luce Post May Be Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee may delay until after Easter approval of Clare Boothe Luce's nomination as ambassador to Brazil.

Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La.) said that some of the members want to allow time for a "cooling-off" period before acting.

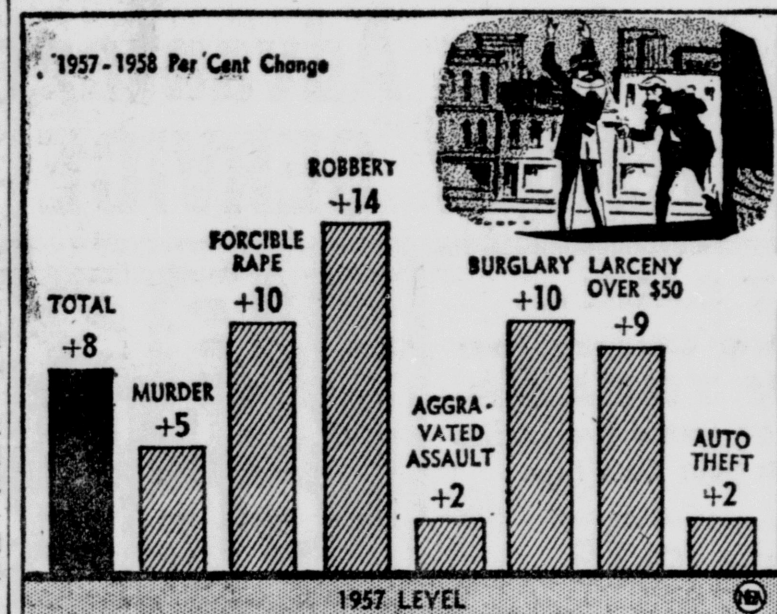

He said some members are concerned because of the publication in the Latin American edition of Time magazine of an article blamed for setting off anti-American rioting in Bolivia. Mrs. Luce's husband, Henry R. Luce, is editor-in-chief of Time.

Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore), chairman of the subcommittee on Latin American affairs, said he got the committee to postpone action "for the time being until

Hotel Man Arrested In Plot to Kill Wife

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police arrested a wealthy hotel man today and accused him of attempting to hire a man to slay his estranged wife, a cripple.

Taken into custody was Kris Albert, 46, identified as the owner of the Sea Breeze Hotel at Avalon, Santa Catalina Island. Investigators said Albert told them he was planning a mercy killing of his spouse, from whom he separated in 1954 and to whom he paid $450 monthly support.

Mrs. Albert, a victim of multiple sclerosis, is the mother of two teenage daughters.

The murder plot failed, police said, when the man hired by Albert went to the Malibu sheriff's substation and told deputies of the plan. He was identified as Michael F. Angulo of suburban Agoura.

Albert, arrested at his Los Angeles apartment, was booked on suspicion of soliciting another to commit murder.

Cleveland Slaying Admitted by Suspect

CLEVELAND (AP)—A former Zanesville man admitted today that he killed Walter Witkowski, 67, with a piece of pipe Friday night at an East Side rooming house.

Capt. David E. Kerr, homicide chief, said Alfred C. Ferrell, 53, who roomed in the same building with Witkowski, said he killed Witkowski in self-defense.

"He grabbed this piece of pipe and came at me," Kerr quoted Ferrell as saying. "I took it from him and swung at him."

Ferrell said he went to Witkowski's room and "offered to take him out and buy him a drink."

The two men had been quarreling for some time, carrying on what Ferrell said was "a running argument" about the Social Security benefits each received.

"But I wasn't mad," Ferrell said, describing his visit to Witkowski's room. "He wouldn't go with me. He started calling me dirty names and then he swung at me."

Ferrell was tried twice but acquitted for the slaying of his mother in Zanesville in 1949.

Both Unemployment, Employment Increase

WASHINGTON (AP)—Both employment and unemployment rose slightly between January and February, but so little as to be practically unchanged.

The government reported employment in February at 62,722,000, up 16,000 from January. It calculated unemployment at 4,749,000, up 25,000. These changes are so small as to be within the realm of possible error.

Compared with February a year ago, employment is up 734,000 and unemployment is down by 424,000. Between January and February last year employment rose by 426,000 while unemployment rose by 679,000.

In reporting relatively no change in last month's job picture, the joint report of the Commerce and Labor Departments said:

"This stability marked the usual seasonal pause between the heavy winter contraction in employment and the normal spring expansion in economic activity."

The seasonally adjusted ratio of unemployment to the total work force remained at 6.1 per cent, the same level prevailing since November.

Employment and unemployment can both increase at the same time because the total labor force does not remain constant. There is for instance a constant flow of younger people into the job-hunting group.

Goose grease used to be found in most medicine chests. For a long time, it was a common remedy for chest colds and pneumonia. The high mortality rate of lung patients proves how ineffective this remedy was. Modern medications—particularly the antibiotics—have drastically reduced the death toll of pneumonia victims, shortened hospital stays and relieved untold pain and suffering. So, don't medicate yourself. Let your physician do the diagnosing and prescribing. Then come to us for any medications he may recommend.

Quakers Overpower Canton Lincoln 57-49

Locals Move Into Regional Finals Saturday Evening

By GORDON ARNDT

Salem's amazing Quakers were just one more victory away from a coveted trip to the state finals today following their 57-49 victory over a stubborn Canton Lincoln squad last night at Kent before some 4,700 paid fans in a spirited regional semifinal encounter.

Last night's win, Salem's 23rd in 24 games and 20th straight, moved John Cabas' squad into Saturday night's finals against the winner of tonight's Akron Central - New Philadelphia contest.

The game was a hum-dinger for two and one-half quarters before the Red and Black broke a 30-30 tie midway in the third frame to build up a lead the smaller Lions were never able to overcome. There were 10 ties in the game and the lead changed hands 12 different times.

Jim Lehwald was more than Salem's sixth man last night. He was the shot-in-the-arm for the Quakers and his scoring in the third quarter ignited a rally for his squad which sprung them loose on a game-winning surge.

Salem led twice by five points in the first half while Lincoln's biggest leads were only two points. Lehwald came in for Dan Krichbaum with 4:42 left in the third quarter and before he was replaced by Danny with 3:57 left in the contest Salem was well on their way to victory.

The score was 32-31 in Salem's favor when Lehwald hit a south paw jump with 3:27 remaining in the next to last stanza to put the Quakers ahead by three. Just 41 seconds later he tallied on another jump and Salem was ahead by five. His efforts encouraged his mates on to further scoring. Woody Deitch canned a jump shot and Dave Hunter a foul and Salem was on top 39-31 before Lincoln scored on a steal by Jerry Lyke.

LINCOLN went for three minutes and eight seconds without a point late in the third frame and coupled with Lehwald's spot scoring the Lions slowly dropped out of serious contention.

Deitch, Marks and another fielder by Lehwald late in the frame pushed the Quakers ahead 44-33 going into the last quarter.

The Red and Black behind Lehwald outpointed Canton 12-2 in the last four minutes and 4 seconds of the third quarter.

Deitch was high man for the winners with 16 while Lou Slaby and Dave Hunter had 14 each. For Lincoln, George Saimes collected 15 and Lyke 13.

Jim Osborn, Lincoln's leading point man with an 18.3 average, was held in check with just eight tallies. He had more than he could handle in the fine defensive work of Marks.

While Lehwald was Salem's injection of adrenalin, it was the performance of Hunter and Slaby that kept the Quakers in the thick of things before they broke it open.

Slaby tallied six of Salem's points in the first quarter and 10 in the first half while Hunter got eight in the first half and six in the last half.

Slaby tallied in close with captured rebounds while Hunter was all over the court in scoring, passing and setting up plays.

Lincoln led 26-25 with 7:06 left in the third frame when Hunter went on a five point spree to put Salem on top 30-27. Lincoln came back to tie 30-30 before Deitch scored on a drive-in to put Salem ahead to stay 32-30. The Lions came within 32-31 but that came just before Lehwald came through with his injection.

HUNTER was remarkable throughout the game. He opened Salem's scoring, tied the score 11-11, put Salem ahead 19-18, boosted their lead to 25 - 20, tallied five straight for a 30-27 margin, rebounded like a demon for his 5-10 size and drove Lincoln crazy with his dribbling and defensive ball-hawking.

He and Slaby stood out for Salem in the first half. Slaby, along with Marks, worked over the boards while the 6-4 Salem center scored repeatedly from underneath.

Lincoln really collapsed in the third frame. When they missed a shot Slaby and Marks got the rebound and seconds later either Lehwald or Deitch scored.

Deitch didn't score his first point until 4:14 was left in the first half. It was his dribbling late in the game which drew fouls and helped his team maintain their lead.

Five men fouled out of the game. Officials called 18 fouls on Salem and 22 on the losers. Massouh, Osborn and Lyke left for Lincoln while Marks fouled out for Salem with 43 seconds left and Slaby with 32 seconds remaining.

The Quakers made 20 of 52 shots for 38.5 per cent while Lincoln hit only 15 of 54 for 27.8 per cent.

Salem was below par in foul shooting making only 17 of 32 while the losers rimmed 19 of 29.

The Quakers biggest lead was 46-33 with 7:26 left in the game. Lincoln started pressing here as Salem did all through the game. The last quarter developed into a foul shooting contest as Lincoln fouled Salem to stop the Quakers stalling tactics while the Red and Black fouled fighting for rebounds and in trying to steal the ball on defense.

LINCOLN played a zone until the final frame while Salem started in a man to man defense but switched to a zone at the start of the second quarter.

At the start it was evident Osborn of Lincoln had a tough cookie to crack in the defensive work of Marks.

Lincoln was very deliberate on offense. They set up screens in the corners with a man cutting toward the middle with a dribble. They worked very well and were impressive in their ball handling and shooting until they fell apart in organization in the third quarter mainly because of the trouble caused them by Lehwald's scoring.

Salem worked well in the first half with Hunter and Krichbaum getting loose underneath and either shooting or feeding Slaby underneath for an easy layup.

The game see-sawed for one and a half quarters before Salem sprung on top 23-18 with 2:39 left in the half. However, Lincoln came back via Lyke and Osborn to close the gap to 25-24 at the intermission.

With Lehwald showing the way and with Lincoln missing coupled with Slaby and Marks rebounding the Quakers outpointed the Lions 19-9 in the third quarter to bolt ahead 44-33 after 24 minutes.

The Quakers hit 7-13 FG tries and 55 fouls in the frame.

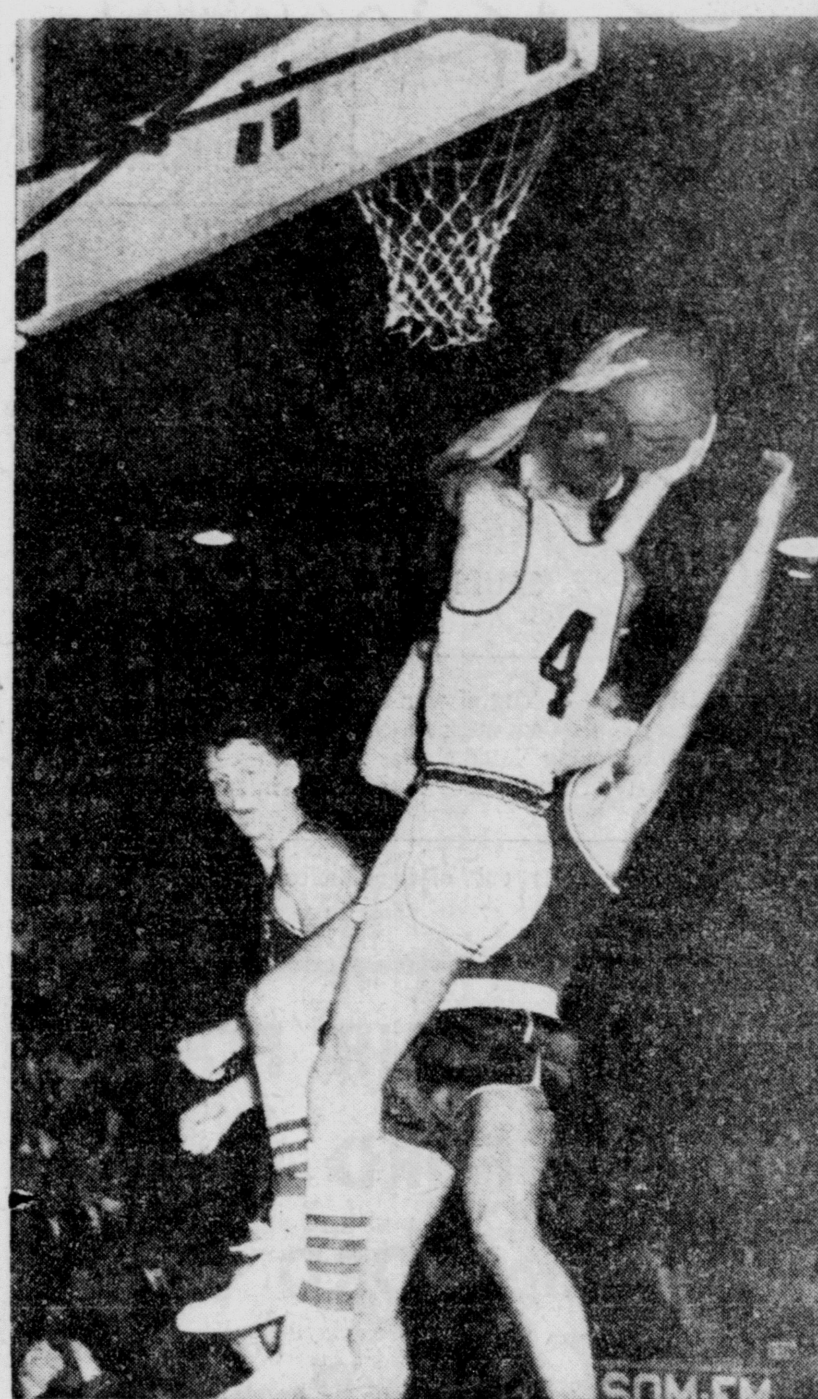

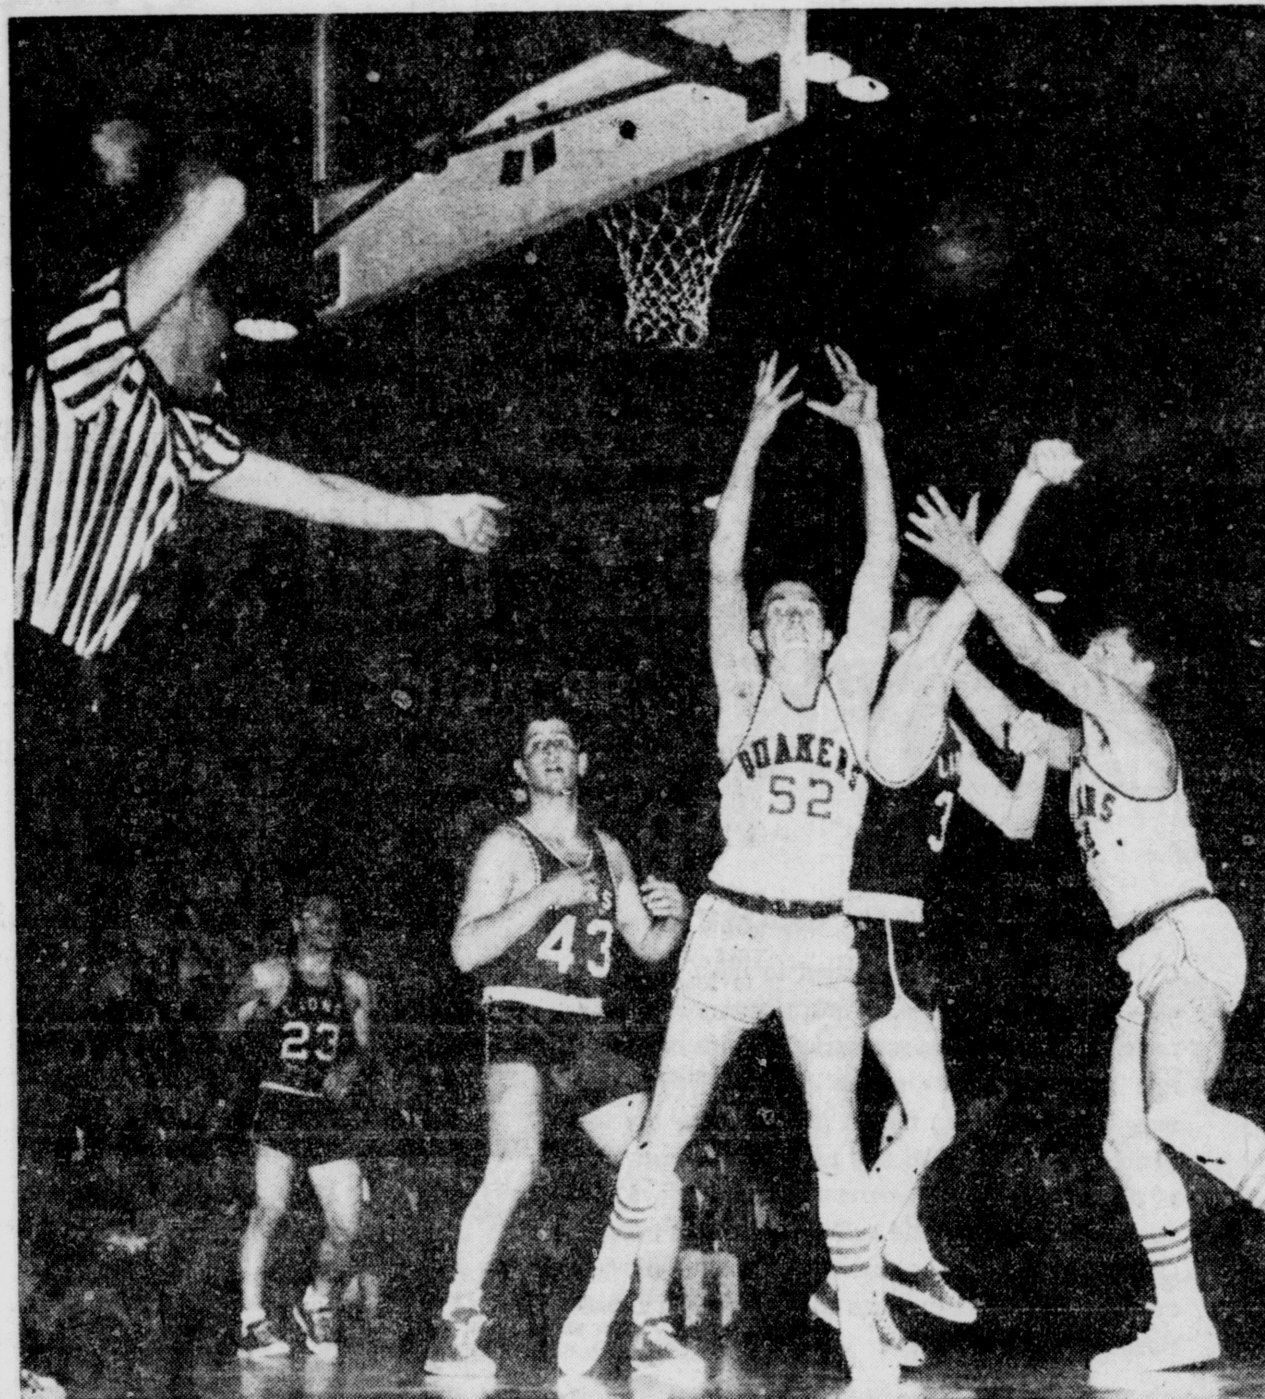

LINCOLN scored 16 points in the final frame but eight were via fouls and eight via four field goals.

The closest the losers came in the last quarter was seven points at 49-44 and 51-44 but in each case good foul shooting by Salem made it again eight or nine.

Salem led 56-46 with 48 seconds left when Saimes and Andrendis totaled three fouls to bring Lincoln within seven but Deitch's foul with 29 seconds left ended the scoring to leave the final count at 57-49 for Salem.

The Quakers will play Saturday night at 8 against the Akron Central - New Philadelphia winner. The victor Saturday moves to Columbus with regional champs from Berea, Toledo, and Cincinnati for the state finals March 20, 21.

Youngstown U. Defeated by Tennessee

KANSAS CITY (AP) — If there's a question concerning the 21st National Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament it is:

How deep is the Tennessee A&I bench?

Coach Johnny McLendon's Tigers, tournament champions the last two years, used only six players in eliminating a strong Youngstown (Ohio) University team 89-80 in the second round Wednesday night. And only five Tigers scored in their first-round victory over Nebraska Wesleyan.

Illinois Normal eliminated Fairleigh-Dickinson of New Jersey 68-64 Wednesday night.

In the other quarter-final games, third seeded Pacific Lutheran will meet Georgia Teachers, and outwest Texas State will play Lenoir-Rhyne of North Carolina.

Pacific Lutheran defeated Central Oklahoma State 68-57 in the second round. Georgia Teachers eliminated Indiana State 73-70. Fort Hays defeated Arkansas State Teachers 59-48. Lenoir-Rhyne handed Grambling (La.) College its first defeat after 28 victories 88-78, and Southwest Texas State beat Westminster (Pa.) 61-58.

SALEM-LINCOLN ACTION — at the left an official bellers out with a foul call on one of the three men involved in some of the spirited action which took place last night at the Kent State field house in Salem's 57-49 win over Canton Lincoln in the regional semifinals.

Clyde Marks, No. 52, and Lou Slaby, No. 54, battle for possession against Jim Osborn, No. 31, of Lincoln. Others for the Lions are George Saimes, No. 23, and John Andrendis, No. 43.

At the right Woody Deitch scores on one of his patented drive-in shots. He tallied 16 for the Quakers. Opponents seen are Osborn to the left and an unidentified Lion to the right of Deitch. Salem will play Saturday at 8 against the Akron Central-New Philadelphia winner with the victor moving on to the state finals in Columbus March 20-21.

Sports Sketches

By GORDON ARNDT

One of the individuals in the Salem dressing room after the game Saturday night was George Simstad, coach of Youngstown Chaney. In a display of keen sportsmanship he went around congratulating each Salem player and Coach John Cabas on their performance. Such a trait is very rare among many mentors but with Mr. Simstad it signified to me the mark of a true competitor.

Dan "Cricket" Krichbaum scored only two points in the Quakers 54-51 win over the Cowboys but what he accomplished on defense more than adequately atoned for his below-par scoring performance.

CHANEY'S Marty Pesut, the leading scorer in Youngstown, entered the game with about a 20-point average but managed only 11 off Krichbaum with four coming in the waning minutes. Cricket was also responsible for giving Chaney's 6-7 Ron Sabo his fourth personal foul. It came at the 7:22 mark in the second quarter when he faked a shot and Sabo fell all over him.

Clyde Marks' name appeared sparingly in this writer's account of the contest but his efforts in the rebound department surely did not go unnoticed with yours truly or anyone else closely connected with the Quakers aggregation.

Many of the Salem players have nicknames which they use among each other. Besides Cricket Krichbaum there is Dave "Hunts" Hunter and Jim Lehwald who is labeled "Lee" by his mates.

RICK THEISS is often called "Cedric" while Jim Solmen gets "Sib" or "Sol." Tim Burchfield is commonly referred to as "Burch." Salem's three other starters and

New Philadelphia. The victor in Saturday's contest moves on to Columbus with regional winners from Berea, Toledo and Cincinnati.

If you ever cheered and backed the Quakers this season then the game this Saturday should be the one where you do it the most. There is nothing which bolsters a player's actions more than to have several thousand people cheering his every move. If the people in this basketball-crazed town are to support the squad, then they should do it with reckless abandon this Saturday. Let's not be mediocre, let's go whole-hog.

"Salem On To Columbus."

Butler Meets Fordham As National Invitational Opens

Doubleheader Set for Tonight

Villanova-St. John's
Other Half of Bill

By The Associated Press
Butler plays Fordham and Villanova challenges St. John's (NY) in a first round, doubleheader as the National Invitation Tournament steps into the spotlight tonight.

The doubleheader at New York's Madison Square Garden tips off the 22nd annual edition of the NIT. The NCAA small college tourney reaches the semifinal stage at Evansville, Ind. The NAIA scrambling goes into the quarter-finals at Kansas City, and the National Collegiate (NCAA) tournament takes its last breather before plunging into four big regional tournaments.

Fordham (16-7), one of four teams from the New York area in the 12-team tournament that winds up March 21, is a four-point favorite over Butler. The Indiana team shows an 18-8 record but has nailed 18 victories in its last 21 starts after dropping its first five.

St. John's (16-6), apparently out of the slump that struck after the Redmen had won 12 of their first 13, is an eight-point choice over Villanova (18-6).

The NCAA tournament moves back into prominence Friday night with regional doubleheaders at Charlotte, N.C., Evanston, Ill., Lawrence, Kan., and San Francisco.

The field of 16 was completed Wednesday night when Idaho State's Rocky Mountain perennials nipped Border Conference champion New Mexico State 62-61. Idaho State, playing in the NCAA for the seventh straight year, will meet St. Mary's (Calif) in the Far Western regional at San Francisco Friday night.

The Friday lineup reads like this:

Far Western at San Francisco: Idaho State (20-6) vs St. Mary's (18-5); California (21-4) vs Utah (21-5).

Mid-West at Lawrence: Texas Christian (19-5) vs Cincinnati (23-4); DePaul (13-9) vs Kansas State (24-1).

Mid-East at Evanston: Louisville (17-10) vs Kentucky (23-2); Marquette (23-4) vs Michigan State (18-3).

East at Charlotte: West Virginia (26-4) vs St. Joseph's (Pa) (22-3); Boston U. (19-6) vs Navy (17-5).

Lenoir Rhyne College of North Carolina furnished the eye-opener in the small school battling Wednesday, snapping Grambling (La.) 28-game unbeaten streak 88-78 in a second round NAIA game. Lenoir Rhyne was joined in the quarter-finals by Pacific Lutheran, West Virginia Wesleyan, defending champion Tennessee A&I, Ft. Hays (Kan) State, Southwest Texas State, Illinois Normal and Georgia Teachers.

Host Evansville topped its tournament conqueror of a year ago, St. Michaels U., 82-63, and moved into the NCAA small college semifinals with North Carolina A&T in tonight's semis. Finals are Friday night while the NAIA winds up its week-long run Saturday night.

NBA Divisional Semi-Finals Get Under Way Friday

By The Associated Press
The divisional semifinal playoffs get under way Friday night in the National Basketball Assn.

The regular season ended Wednesday night, with the St. Louis Hawks defeating the Nationals in overtime at Syracuse, 132-130, and the Detroit Pistons pulling up from behind to nip the Lakers at Minneapolis, 123-118.

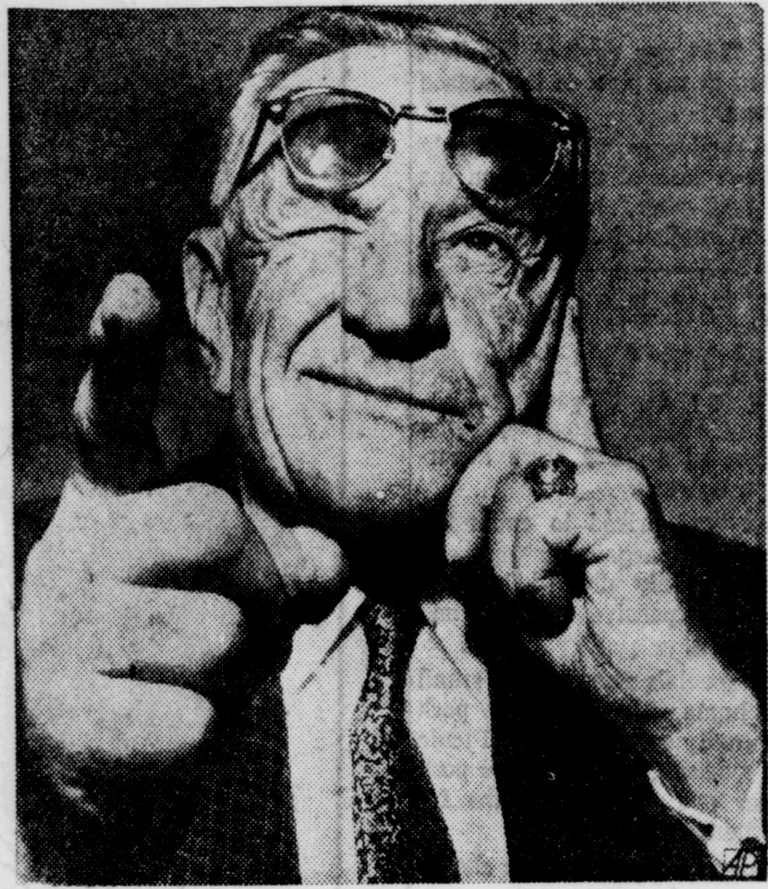

New York, runnerup to the Boston Celtics in the Eastern division, entertain Syracuse in New York Friday night in the opener of their best-of-three playoffs. The winner meets Boston.

Detroit travels to St. Paul to take on the Lakers in their semifinal series starting Saturday. The winner of this series takes on the champion Hawks.

It was Dick McGuire's long shot with 45 seconds left that gave Detroit its victory over Minneapolis. Phil Jordan scored 21 points for the Pistons, while Elgin Baylor was the Lakers' big man with 39.

Cliff Hagan's hook shot with one second remaining in the extra period was the margin of victory for St. Louis.

But it was the Hawks' Bob Pettit, leading scorer in the league, who scored the high of 27 points to break another league record. Last week he broke George Yardley's one-season record of 2,001 points, and his 27 against Syracuse ran the total to 2,105. In finishing the season with an average of 29.2 points per game, he shattered the 28.4 mark of Minneapolis' George Mikan, made in 1950-51.

AIMING HIGH — That old seer, Casey Stengel, manager of world champion New York Yankees, points upward as he discusses team's chances at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Casey Stands by Ford Despite Pressure From Yank Bosses

By ED NICHOLS
Brush-Moore Special Writer

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — This is the training base of baseball's world champions. It's the place where the peons are growling, and the land owners and overseers are snapping long, nasty whips.

There's great confusion among the hired hands, and many people think management is out of its penant-flying, money-clutching mind in holding up its stars to public humiliation.

The New York Yankee bosses as you've read, deplore the fact that some of their slaves were dillying and dallying on the road last year. Once detectives were hired, but Manager Casey Stengel filed the reports in the nearest ash can.

BUT LAST MONTH management prevailed on Casey to do some blasting. With apparent reluctance he did, raking Yankees "who are too tired to run 90 feet to first base" and "whose watches must be pretty poor if they don't tell the difference between noon and midnight."

Finally, his two big problems — Whitey Ford and Mickey Mantle — signed contracts.

But there was a lot of conversation about Ol' Casey's remarks. Yankee wives, who heretofore hadn't given much thought to what their husbands did for mischief on the road, suddenly were cool to them, and served macaroni and cheese instead of lamb chops.

THAT'S WHERE things stand and the mischievous Stengel here was to needle Stengel a little for starting the big snowball in the first place.

We found him standing gloomily by the batting cage, hands in hip pockets. After of couple of pleasanties, he was slipped the loaded question:

"Hey Casey, how many times was it you were fined for staying out late in the old days? You were always a wild one, weren't you?"

He was, you know. With the New York Giants he and Irish Meusel teamed up for many a long tour of Broadway until John McGraw put a detective on them, making Casey indignant because he thought he deserved a detective all his own.

There are other stories, from Brooklyn, Philadelphia, Boston, Toledo, Milwaukee and Kankakee, Ill.

CASEY CONSIDERED the question and screwed up that magnificent caricature he has for a face.

"Well, I'll tell you," he said in-ly.

recently. "It was different then. We played day games and they were over by 4 o'clock. We had until midnight to get in. So if a player couldn't make it back to the hotel in eight hours, he deserved to be fined."

(In man-to-man conversation, incidentally, Casey doesn't use double talk.)

"Aw, Casey!" we said. "We have different types of men now. They don't go into saloons publicly as some of those fellows did back then. They are higher types now, just as likely, you know yourself, to be drinking soda pop as beer or whiskey."

"AW, CASE, you know that's not what —"

"All right, it's true about the pitcher — my left-handed pitcher," the old gaffer said with a pointed finger. He was, of course, referring to Whitey Ford.

"He drinks a few beers now and then and he shouldn't because the doctors say alcohol in any form, even in salads, does something to his blood stream and he has a bad arm and can't work for me."

THEN HE QUICKLY pinned a bouquet on Ford.

"But I also happen to know that he goes for months, maybe longer, without looking at a beer. He's ready for me when I need him."

"Sure, Casey, but he only won 14 —"

"And of them, seven by shutouts and earned runs of 2.01, best in baseball, and he beat the big clubs for me."

And the delightful old schemer, who is certain to go down in American folklore with Babe Ruth, John L. Sullivan, Jack Dempsey, Red Grange and others, delivered, bless his heart, a majestic wink that said, "The hell with the club owners."

"Ain't he a fine pitcher, though?" he said. "Ain't he the best there is in the whole world?"

Veck seeks Comiskey

CHICAGO (AP) — Baseball's strangest stalemate continued today with the self-styled boss of the Chicago White Sox ignoring the man who just assumed control of the club, or thought he did.

Bill Veck, who Tuesday bought 54 per cent of the club, said he would visit Comiskey Park for the second consecutive day with hopes of an official get-together with Vice President Chuck Comiskey.

Boston Edges Cleveland 4-3

Milwaukee Blasted
13-7 by Philadelphia

Wally Post may supply the right answer to the Philadelphia Phils question: "Who will share the outfield with Richie Ashburn and Harry Anderson?"

Ashburn, the National League's batting king in 1958 with a .350 average, and Anderson, the soph who hit .301 with 97 runs batted in and had 23 homers, need help to get the Phils out of the NL cellar.

Post was supposed to supplant the power the Phils missed in 1957 when Del Ennis went to St. Louis after the 1956 season. Philadelphia gave the Cincinnati Reds pitcher Harvey Haddix in exchange for Post.

Things didn't work out as planned last year. Post wound up being platooned with Rip Repulisti and Anderson, and doing a lot of pinchhitting. He finished with a respectable .282 batting average, but had only 12 homers (four as pinchhitter) and 62 RBI.

Post went about nailing down the outfield job Wednesday with a pair of home runs in a 17-hit Philadelphia attack that demolished the Milwaukee Braves 13-7. Gene Freese also homered for the Phils and rookies Jim Pisoni and Chuck Cottier did likewise for the Braves.

The Braves' Carlton Wiley, Bob Rush, Bob Buhl and Dale Hendrickson were the victims of the Phils' attack.

Hank Sauer's grand slam homer highlighted a six-run eighth inning to give the San Francisco Giants a 10-5 victory over the Chicago Cubs. Cal Neeman and Tony Taylor hit home runs for Chicago.

Don Demeter's long single gave Los Angeles a 7-6 victory over Cincinnati. Johnny Temple, with four hits, and Roy McMillan with three and three RBI, paced the Cincinnati attack.

Chuck Essengian's triple and Lee Tate's single in the 10th inning helped St. Louis to its first Grapefruit League victory, over Pittsburgh, 5-4. Stan Musial, in his initial training appearance, went hitless.

Boston capitalized on two errors each by first baseman Larry Doby and pitcher Hal Woodeshick to edge Cleveland 4-3 and remain the only unbeaten team in exhibition play.

Moore Has Chance To Break Record

By The Associated Press
Dickie Moore, Montreal Canadiens left winger and leading scorer in the National Hockey League, had a chance today to break Gordie Howe's all-time point record for one season.

Moore tallied his 38th goal of the season and collected two assists, now has 86 points, Howe scored 49 goals and had 46 assists when he set the record of 95 points Maple Leafs 6-2. Moore, with 48 assists, now has 8 points, Howe scored 49 goals and had 46 asit when he et the record of 95 points with the Detroit Red Wings in the 1952-53 season.

With five games left before the Canadiens go into the Stanley Cup playoffs, Moore has only to average two points per contest.

Meanwhile, the Chicago Black Hawks ended a three-game losing streak by whipping the New York Rangers 5-3, thus clinching a play-off berth for the first time in six years.

IT WILL soon be time to go after those delicious spring morels, the one mushroom that man has never found a way to grow.

In the meantime our spring fed runs are filled with water crest and have leaved out enough to make a delicious salad. One thing you should watch in removing the unwanted parts of the plant. You had better soak the plant in salt water. In most instances, anything nature provides in the wilds that is good to eat the bugs get there first. It might not hurt you to eat bugs and all but no one would do so willingly.

Chicagoo Glovers To Pit Boxing Skill Against New York

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago's Golden Glovers, the best amateur scrappers in the West, will take boxing skill rather than punching power against New York in the March 25 intercity bouts here.

This was demonstrated clearly Wednesday night before 11,243 in Chicago Stadium and a national television audience in Chicago's tourney of champions finals.

Four of the amateur stars, including one of the two defending champions, won their titles before the TV camera.

Wilbur Mc Clure, Toledo, Ohio, retained his 160-pound championship with a decision over Cincinnati's Herbert Wills.

The others who won titles "on camera" included heavyweight Jimmy Jones, 18, an unemployed Chicago representative; welterweight Don Sargent, a truck driver from Minneapolis; and Cassius Clay, 17, a high school light heavy from Louisville, Ky.

De Marco Stops George Monroe

Referee Halts Fight In Eighth Round

BOSTON (AP)—Tough Tony De Marco, the million dollars baby of Boston boxing, set his sight high today after convincing himself he isn't washed up at 27.

The former welterweight champion passed his initial test after a 14-month layoff by stopping George (Curley) Monroe of Worcester at 1:09 of the eighth round of a scheduled 10 Wednesday night at the Garden.

"I proved to myself that I still have it," De Marco said. "I feel wonderful, I want to keep busy and hope to fight my way back into the title picture."

The squat Boston slugger also proved something to a crowd of 7,940 which paid a gross of $24,582. He showed that he has not lost the dramatic touch which made him a great local ring attraction.

De Marco flashed much of his old-time form and tremendous punching power in flooring Monroe twice. At other times he resembled the De Marco of old with wild attempts which enabled Monroe to get off the hook and stay upright.

De Marco floored Monroe, cutting his lip, with a long right in the seventh round to set the stage for an uproarious end.

Monroe's handlers tried to stop the fight, but Referee Jim McCarron insisted the fighters come out for the eighth. When Monroe went down from a wicked left hook to the body, the referee called a halt.

Rulings Are Issued By Supreme Court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court has let stand a $2,250 award to Ralph Kurtz for injuries received in 1955 when an Akron Transportation Co. bus struck him. It happened while he waited with other passengers outside the B. F. Goodrich Co. plant on South Main Street.

The court, in rulings Wednesday, also:

Let stand a decision by Columbian County Appellate Court returning to Juvenile Court the case of Bertram Handelman who obtained a divorce on neglect charges from his wife, Helen, in 1951 only to have it vacated. The Appellate Court said the trial court had authority to determine custody of their minor child.

Dismissed the appeal of Richard D. Skinner from a divorce granted his wife, Audrey, in 1957 on neglect and cruelty charges. Mrs. Skinner was granted custody of their minor child. The Skinners were married in 1947 in Toronto, Jefferson County.

Unanimously reversed a $12,000 award to Goldie V. Canter of Canton for a broken shoulder suffered in a fall March 16, 1954, in the apartment building of Seraphim D. Valley who hired the woman, a tenant, to remove wall paper from one of the rooms.

Great Lakes Shipping To Show Improvement

CLEVELAND (AP)—Shipping on the Great Lakes is expected to show improvement this year over 1958, the most sluggish season in years.

The United States Steel Corp. said Wednesday its Pittsburgh steamship division will operate 53 of its 57 ore carriers this season. The division, which has the largest fleet on the lakes, operated only 37 boats last year, and the first of these did not sail until the middle of May.

Weather permitting, the first

Pittsburgh steamship division boats will be in operation by mid-April.

Other vessel operators have indicated that a majority of the 250 boats in the American Great Lakes fleet will be operating this year.

Only 72.58 per cent of the fleet operated at the peak of the season last year.

Steel producers, who moved only 58 million tons of iron ore on the lakes last year, hope to move about 75 million tons this season.

Beef, Pork Bargains Listed This Week

By The Associated Press
Beef and pork monopolize the headlines in grocery store advertising this week.

Roast beef priced to catch the housewife's bargain-hunting eye is about evenly divided between the more expensive rib cuts and chuck roast.

Pork specials range from small fresh hams to expensive pork chops and cured hams. Picnic hams, sausage, pork loin and pork shoulder are also among the favored items.

Eggs are a penny or two cheaper in several areas.

Vegetable bargains are plentiful, with potatoes, endive, escarole, lettuce, celery, carrots, spinach, collard kale and radishes heading the list. Cabbage Idaho potatoes, broccoli and broccolirabe also are good buys.

Cucumbers, asparagus, eggplant, cauliflower and squash are more expensive this week.

Best buys among fruits include California navel oranges, Florida grapefruit and Valencia oranges, pineapples, limes, bananas, avocados and several varieties of small cooking apples.

Western pears, California grapes and eating apples also are good buys.

First major fire in America took place in 1608—it burned out the entire settlement of Jamestown, Va.

CHILDREN OF THE BIBLE

ESTHER

"And he brought up Hadassah, that is, Esther, his uncle's daughter; for she had neither father nor mother . . ."

— Esther 2:7

Her Persian name was Esther, meaning "a star." But her parents originally called her Hadassah, the Hebrew word for "myrtle."

When they died, the orphaned girl went to live with her cousin, Mordecai, who was a vizier to the Persian monarch, Ahasuerus.

The Persians chose a better name, for the Bible tells us that "the maid was fair and beautiful."

Because of her foster father's important position, young Esther lived in the palace at Shushan.

This was one of the most elegant and ornate royal mansions in ancient times. When the girl was first taken by Mordecai into the Apadana or audience chamber, she could hardly believe her eyes.

The lofty ceiling was of cedar, brightly painted and set with designs of metal and colored tile. Supporting it were tall columns of gray marble, topped by capitals of beautifully carved kneeling bulls.

Around her the walls were decorated with patterns set with enameled brick. Elaborately embroidered hangings of purple and scarlet could be unrolled to shut out the glare of the hot sunlight during the day.

The pretty girl who first looked upon the splendor of the King's audience hall little realized that one day this would be the setting for her greatest triumph.

For it was here that she pleaded for the lives of her people who were to be persecuted by Haman, prime minister of the king.

In this, her great beauty was matched only by her courage. "I will go in unto the king," she declared boldly, "which is not according to the law: if I perish, I perish."

Her heroism has become a lasting legend.

Guarding Your Health

By Dr. EDWIN P. JORDAN

Shingles Attack Hard on Elderly

A man who says his age is 79 has recently asked for a discussion of shingles.

He says that he has been told that there is no help for his condition because of his age. It has attacked the sciatic nerve in the left hip. His right hip also is sometimes affected. Nothing which has so far been tried has given him relief.

This is a distressing situation, since the late effects of shingles are likely to be particularly difficult in elderly people.

However, the description is not exactly typical of shingles and one cannot help but wonder whether he as some form of neuritis or possibly joint disease.

THIS, HOWEVER, is pure guesswork at a distance so I shall have to confine my remarks to the painful, unpleasant, but rather fascinating disease known as shingles, or herpes zoster.

This is a disorder almost certainly caused by a virus, but a virus which for some unknown reason appears to attack only the nerve roots and then only on one side of the body.

Generally, a person coming down with shingles will first have pain and tingling on part of one side of the body (or the face) for three or four days, usually associated with fever. It may be difficult to know what is happening at this time, but suddenly typical blisters appear on one side which make diagnosis easy.

Another curious thing about herpes is that it seems to be somehow related to the virus which causes chickenpox. Some people have developed herpes after exposure to chickenpox. Indeed, small epidemics of shingles have developed at the same time as epidemics of chickenpox.

MOST MEDICAL textbooks say that there is no single specific treatment for shingles. I have, however, received several letters from people who have tried various preparations (or are marketing such preparations) who claim definite benefits for particular drugs.

Certainly the pain should be treated by local preparations or pain reducing drugs. If the doctor thinks advisable, one or more special preparations should be tried since some of them have been reported on quite favorably.

As a rule, the victim of shingles recovers in two or three weeks or more without any harmful remainders. However, there are a few—particularly the elderly—and those with eye complications—who have long-lasting nerve pain following shingles.

This, when it occurs, is most troublesome since it may be prolonged and is resistant to most forms of treatment. In some, surgery of the nerve or nerve ganglion may be necessary to bring relief.

Little has been done in the way of prevention for shingles. It is hard to know where one could begin with prevention unless some vaccine could be developed.

Even then, since most people never have shingles at all, one would hesitate before recommending vaccination of the entire population.

Leftover Chicken Tricks

Chicken left over from Sunday (or any day) can reappear as a delicious surprise next day Here's a very simple recipe that produces something new, tempting and economical.

Spiced Chicken Balls in Mushroom Sauce (Yield: 8 servings)

Combine 2 beaten eggs, 3 cups finely ground cooked chicken, 1 cup soft bread crumbs, ¾ cup chicken stock, ¼ teaspoon powdered dry mustard, ¼ teaspoon ground allspice, ¼ teaspoon ground black pepper, and ½ teaspoon instant minced onion. Shape mixture into 16 1½-inch balls. Place in a 12x8x2-inch baking pan. Pour the mushroom sauce (see below) over the balls. Bake 50 minutes in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees F.).

Mushroom Sauce

Combine 1 can condensed mushroom soup, 1 cup chicken stock, ¼ teaspoon celery salt, ¼ teaspoon onion powder, ¼ teaspoon ground black pepper and 1-16 teaspoon garlic powder. Heat to boiling point and pour over the chicken balls.

Luncheon Meat Patties

Yield: 4 servings)
Put 1 can (12 ounces) luncheon meat through a food chopper, using the medium blade. Add ½ cup

A Shrimp Dish

One can (1 pound) small white onions, 1 can (1 pound) small potatoes, 1 package (10 ounces) quick-frozen cooked, shelled shrimp; 1 can (10½ ounces) cream of celery soup, 1 can (1 pound) green peas, 1 can (6 ounces) sliced broiled mushrooms.

Heat onions and potatoes in their own juices and drain. Add shrimp and celery soup undiluted and toss lightly. Place in shallow 1½-quart casserole, cover and bake in preheated 375 degree F oven until very hot about 30 minutes. Remove from oven. Meanwhile, heat peas and mushrooms in their own broth, drain and place on top of baked casserole. Cover and return to oven for 5 minutes. Serve immediately.

Serves 4 generously.

Household Hints

The door of your refrigerator should close tightly on a piece of paper. If the paper slips out easily, have the door strip replaced. Otherwise, you will waste fuel.

In starching clothes, put the wrong side out. For white garments, use the starch as hot as you can handle it. Starch those you want stiffest first.

Lamb Stew

Cut 1½ pounds lamb stew meat into small pieces and dredge with 2 tablespoons all-purpose flour. Melt 3 tablespoons butter or bacon drippings in heavy frying pan and brown meat on all sides. Add ½ teaspoon onion salt, ½ teaspoon celery salt, ¼ teaspoon ground black pepper,

1 teaspoon dried parsley flakes and meat stock or water enough to cover meat. Cover and simmer 1 hour. Add 1 diced turnip and 2 carrots and simmer 1 hour longer. Add 2 cups diced potatoes and cook a little more rapidly until potatoes are tender—about 15 minutes. Yield: 4 to 5 servings

When your teen-agers' friends come calling let them make their own sandwiches from a tray of sliced bread, soft butter, sliced ham and corned beef, mustard and relishes. Have bowls of carrot sticks and potato chips on hand for munching, soft drinks for a beverage and frosted cupcakes or cookies for dessert.

Stuffed Breast of Lamb is Economical, Tasty

Here's thrifty good news for homemakers with an eye of the food budget: A hearty meat dish that can be prepared for less than 30 cents per bountiful serving!

It's called "Crispy Stuffed Breast of Lamb" A deliciously seasoned stuffing, made of low-cost crispy saltine crackers and canned mushroom slices, adds extra good flavor—and extra servings too—to an in-expensive cut of lamb.

This tasty budget-stretcher is a wonderful menu choice.

Crispy Stuffed Breast of Lamb

1 1/4-2 lb. breast of lamb, 3 cups coarsely crushed Krispy Saltine Crackers, 1/4 cup margarine, 1 large onion, chopped, 2 3-oz. cans sliced mushrooms, 3 tablespoons chopped parsley, 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Have butcher cut a pocket in the lamb for stuffing. Sprinkle the inside of the pocket with salt. Measure crumbs into a large bowl. Heat margarine and cook onion in it until transparent. Combine onion, undrained mushrooms, parsley salt and crumbs.

Toss to blend. Heat oven to 325 degrees F (slow oven). Stuff crumb mixture into pocket in lamb. Close opening with skewers. Roast at 325 degrees F. for 1 1/2 hours.

Makes four servings. Serve, if desired with carrots and onions roasted along with lamb.

Household Hint

If there's asparagus in that super salad you plan to serve, try this: Open cans of whole asparagus spears from the BOTTOM so that tips will not break when removed from the can.

Investment In Self Is Good Move

It's Your Pocketbook

By FAYE HENLE
(NEA Staff Writer)

I hope you will find this difficult to believe.

There is a good chunk of our population today no more aware of inflation than what they read in the headlines. These people think they are being pretty smart when they go about telling each other that no one is being hurt by inflation. They keep repeating that we are all a lot better off than we used to be.

I seriously doubt whether these people will be able to sustain their frivolous bliss for much longer. When the ravages in inflation do catch up with them, it will be tough. For the majority of those untouched by the drop in the purchasing power of the dollar are either very young or very foolish.

IF YOU MEET any of these people, query them. You'll discover I'm certain, they have few objectives in life.

It could be that you could help them by indicating that spending patterns must be balanced and that carefully laid plans for saving and investing are the stuff upon which one builds for future security.

Investing does not necessarily mean buying stocks and bonds and receiving dividends or interest. Depending upon who you are and what you wish to be, an investment in yourself can perhaps yield you a far higher rate of return than any other form of investment you could buy.

What's more, investing in yourself is the only kind of investment I know of guaranteed to grow even when your dollars depreciate. Is more learning what you need?

Or, would an investment stressing personal development bring you a higher rate of return? This is something that only you can decide.

If you are going to put dollars into education decide first on a career objective and make certain you choose an occupation or profession within your capabilities, one that you'll enjoy. Then, investigate the training you will need and carefully explore the best ways to finance that training.

BANKS MAKE special student loans. There is a wide variety of scholarships from private institutions, and from the government which you might apply for. Some employers will pay for your tuition if they feel you are serious about wanting to get ahead.

If you are already set in your chosen line of work, take time out to ask yourself whether you wouldn't do better if you invested in improving your personality, your appearance or your ability to get along with other people.

Perhaps you'll benefit by acquiring special equipment for use on the job or at home which would contribute to your efficiency or skill. Possibly, an investment in trade journals or books will help you ahead faster. Some of these investments could even qualify for a deduction on your income tax. Watch this angle.

Finally, consider investment in a hobby to make you a happier or a healthier or a more relaxed person both at work and at home.

These ideas are explored in a 10-cent booklet called "Your Savings and Investment Dollar," the most recent in a series of Money Management guides issued by the Household Finance Corporation of Chicago.

2 Boys, Grandmother Are Killed In Blaze

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Fire flashed through a log cabin home south of Fort Wayne Tuesday night and killed two boys and their grandmother.

The boys were Shelby Brock, 5, and his brother, Dennis, 4. The grandmother, Mrs. Zolla Howard, 45, lived at Stoney Fork, Ky.

The grandmother had come to stay with the children while their mother, Lena Mae Brock, was in a hospital. Mrs. Brock gave birth to another son Monday.

The father, Elisha Brock, 38, was at work.

Ike Once Proposed Powerful New Post for Dulles

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower once said he would like to see a new Cabinet post of vast power created — a sort of super secretary of state.

He made the suggestion a year ago, in a letter to a friend. He said his choice for the post was Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. Life magazine today published an excerpt from the letter, along with other private letters of the President.

Eisenhower favored calling the new post "the first secretary of the government," and entrusting to the man who held it the direction of seven major federal agencies in their dealings with international affairs. The White House declined to comment on the letters.

Eisenhower said creation of the post would be his "ideal organizational change."

The new Cabinet officer would be responsible to the President, Eisenhower wrote, and "would be relieved of the chore of meeting with committees and long hours of detailed discussion and argument — he would be given time to think."

In other letters the President aired his views about Vice President Richard M. Nixon and newspapermen.

Some of the President's views: NIXON — "Actually, so far as I know, there has been no vice president in all our history, and I am including Teddy Roosevelt, who was, during his incumbency of that office, kept so well informed, so busy, so usefully employed."

NEWSPAPERMEN — "Your mention of Dick Nixon reminds me how difficult it is sometimes for newspapermen — possibly I should say commentators — to believe the plain unvarnished truth. I went out of my way to say how satisfactory Dick Nixon is to me, then I find one columnist says 'Ike ditches Dick.'"

Spoons and forks accompanying bowls of jelly or sliced pickles should be placed beside the dishes, not in them, when you're setting the table.

Ever make jam sandwiches and then dip them into an egg-and-milk mixture and fry in butter like French toast?
